

IDNR Hunter Safety Class

In cooperation with the Illinois Department of Natural Resources, the Harvard Sportsman's Club allows IDNR instructors only the use our facility to hold the IDNR Hunter Safety classes. Some instructors are club members. However, we do not have any association with the IDNR or the classes. They decide when the classes will be held, registration and certification. Please do not call the club for information; we don't know anything about the classes or the content.

For more information about when classes are available in your county and how to register, please visit the IDNR web site for that county.
