SCRUTINIES

At certain times during a catechumen's journey to Easter Sacraments, the Church celebrates different Rites with them. Two weeks ago, at our 7:00 p.m. liturgy at St. Augustine's, we celebrated the Rite of Election with our catechumens, Sarah, Rebecca, Frank and Kent.

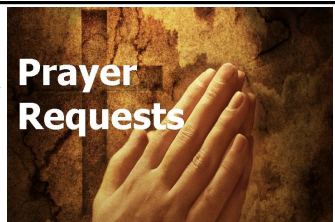

Beginning this weekend and for the next two weekends, we will celebrate the scrutinies with our Elect. The Scrutinies are "rites for self-searching and repentance and have above all, a spiritual purpose. They are meant to uncover, then heal all that is weak, defective or sinful in the hearts of the Elect; to bring out, then strengthen all that is upright, strong, and good. The Scrutinies are celebrated in order to protect them against temptation, and give them strength in Christ, who is the way, the truth, and the life. They are meant to inspire in the Elect a desire for purification and redemption by Christ.

DISMISSAL

All adults preparing for reception into the Catholic Church will be dismissed at the end of the Liturgy of the Word. This Dismissal continues at each 7:00pm Sunday liturgy until the Triduum, and at the Easter Vigil, those who are ready, will join their parish community at the Table of the Eucharist for the first time. To continue to be nourished by God's Word, during this period the Elect depart from Mass with an RCIA Team Member or Catechist to discuss the Readings for that Sunday, and to experience more fully the impact of the Scriptures in their lives. This time is known as "Reflection on The Word."

What is holding you back from experiencing the fullness of a true loving relationship with God?

Throughout Lent a box will be at the entrance to St Augustine's for your prayer petitions. Bring your petitions with you and place in the sealed box. This box and contents will be burnt in the Easter Vigil fire, symbolizing our entering into the Easter season with a clean heart.

Exploring our Faith

My understanding on today's second Reading is that our ancestors lived on the land and the sea with the same needs as everybody else. The reading also noted that they were all baptized, as we are all baptized. It also mentions that there were still some evil doers who at the same time depended on the same spiritual rock that followed them. God was not pleased with their way of excepting or desiring evil. They were destroyed is an example stated that the evil things destroyed them.

As an Elder, who was baptized at the age of five years old, and remembering the experience of my Baptism, made me remember the feeling of the warm wind against my face walking through the path on my way home from church. I knew that our creator was with me. I can also say the Rock of Christ was following me.

I believe in Baptism we receive a special gift. This special gift must be nurtured by each one of us. Plants when nurtured grow into a beautiful plant, like our faith can be.

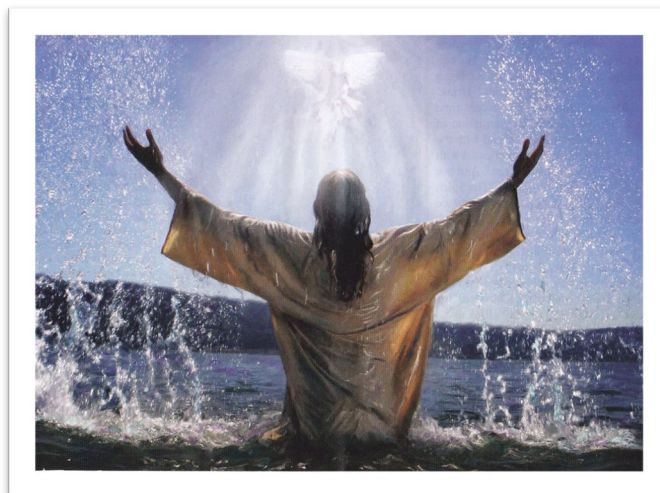

This gift gives us tools as we embrace our faith: Examples of these tools is our regular attendance at Sunday masses, because each week we have a better understanding of what our Lord is teaching us to get closer to him in a place of eternal happiness.

The commandments is another tool that shows us how to live with our brothers and sisters in this very complicated world. It is also so simple because if we love our neighbor as we love ourselves, the commandments are uniting us with the Lord.

Sacraments is another tool that we have in our toolbox. As we receive our sacraments it awakens and enlightens our faith in the Lord. We have a greater and a deeper understanding that the Lord loves us unconditionally.

If we don't want to fall we know that the Lord has unconditional Love for us and when we are deeply sorry for our sins and evil ways, our Lord will forgive us. Amen

Scripture and Tradition

A Recipe for Life and Understanding

An Introduction to Catholic Moral Teaching

Scripture calls us to holiness. We are not simply called to do what we are allowed and avoid that which is prohibited. "Scripture offers encouragement to walk toward Christian sanctity, and to live as Christ did, to imitate His freedom of heart, His love of the poor, His chastity, His kindness and compassion." (The Essential Moral Handbook, O'Neil and Black, page 120)

We can explore scripture in a very profound and meticulous way, searching for nuance and special insight. We can also listen and be transformed when scripture speaks clearly to us; "what must I do to inherit eternal life" (Lk 10:25) or "which commandment in the law is the greatest." (Mt 22:36 Mk12:28) The answer is to love God and your neighbour as yourself. There is no escaping this. There is no denying how broad and complete the definition of neighbour is as expressed in such Gospels as the Good Samaritan.

We are made in the image of Christ and are called to live lives that are "worthy of the Gospel of Christ" (Phil 1:27). This calls us to a deep commitment, a profound love for the other. Do I have the wisdom? Do I have the knowledge to understand this great calling, to love in a way worthy of Christ? This is where our Tradition steps in to help us out.

Scripture introduces us to the great Apostle St. Paul, who in his first letter to the Corinthians explains to us what love is. "Love is patient. Love is kind.... Love never ends." (1 Co 13:4-8) It is an extraordinary teaching, it moves our soul when we hear it. There is a lot here. We need to unpack this. We can't do it on our own.

Let us ask the Patron Saint of Moral Theologians, and founder of the Redemptorists, St. Alphonsus Liguori from his work The Practice of the Love of Jesus Christ.

He speaks of how love is kind. He reminds us as Christians we should request rather than demand. Correct with firmness and not harshness, to leave with gentleness and a kind word. It is kindness and tenderness that convert another rather than accusations. As I read this I realise how easy it is to be mean to someone we disagree with. Jesus teaches us to love our enemies. We are guided by the Church in ways to accomplish this.

We have the benefit of the guidance of the Doctors of the Church, and the writings of our Church leaders. What a blessing it is to explore the Beatitudes with a Saint Augustine or Saint John Paul II. We ask ourselves if this is just good teaching or is there something very special about our Catholic Tradition?

Tradition in a very fundamental way is “all about the truths received and transmitted to be in turn received and transmitted further along the line of humanity.”(The Essential Moral Handbook, pg 110) God introduces himself and His plan for our salvation through Jesus Christ. The sacred Tradition comes from what the Apostles received from the lips of Jesus, His way of life and His works, and by coming to know it through the prompting of the Holy Spirit (Dogmatic Constitution on Divine Revelation #7) The Catholic Church continues to teach what has been handed on to them.

We have the benefit of writings that go back to people who were in contact with the Apostles. We have the benefit of knowing both through scripture and the writings of the Early Church Fathers what challenges were faced and the solutions that were found. It is through the continuing flow of this wisdom, built upon this Tradition that the Church is able to reflect on sin and develop ways to heal the consequences thereof.

The teaching of the Church is alive and growing. We are constantly being bombarded with new challenges to our faith. Questions of a social justice nature will always enter into the life of a church committed to helping the poor and downtrodden. Modern developments in science and medicine can be particularly challenging. The wisdom found through a sincere commitment to scripture and Catholic Tradition, under the guidance of the Holy Spirit, will bring us to the proper conclusions.

Pope Benedict XVI in Caritas in Veritate or Charity in Truth states “Truth is the light that gives meaning and value to charity. That light is both the light of reason and the light of faith, through which the intellect attains to the natural and supernatural truth of charity: it grasps its meaning as gift, acceptance and communion.” #3

“The Church is guardian of the deposit of God’s word and draws religious and moral principles from it, but it does not always have ready answers to every question. Still it is eager to associate the light of revelation with the experience of humanity in trying to clarify the course upon which it has recently entered.” (Pastoral Constitution on the Church in the Modern World #33

It is a true blessing that the Church continues to search and clarify the truth. Living out our calling as disciples to humbly and lovingly serve the Lord and our brothers and sisters, often in very difficult and confusing circumstances.
