

Karen Campbell

Associate Vice President for Recruitment, Enrollment & Admission
Tidewater Community College

Dr. Karen Campbell has over 22 years of experience in higher education. She has held various positions at Emory University, James Madison University, the College of William and Mary and Tidewater Community College. She received her bachelor of science in business administration from the University of Richmond, her master of education from James Madison University and her doctorate in higher education from Old Dominion University. She received the chancellor's fellowship to complete her studies at ODU and while in the doctoral program was the recipient of the outstanding doctoral student award. Shortly after completion of her doctoral degree she was promoted to Associate Vice President for Recruiting, Admission and Enrollment at Tidewater Community College.