

Purls of Joy

February is a month for new beginnings, resilience, and love.

Just like the quiet buds of spring begin to form beneath the surface, take this month to nurture the seeds of your dreams and personal growth. February, though short, can spark renewal in our spirits. Use this time to reflect, refresh, and set your intentions for the months ahead. February is not just about the love we give to others; it's also a reminder to care for ourselves. Take moments to appreciate who you are.

Discover our latest collection of cozy, and colorful yarns. Fresh fibers, exciting textures, and vibrant colors to inspire your next project.

220 Superwash Sport Wave

220 Superwash Wave is classic Cascade 220 Superwash with a new color shift effect. The color repeats are very long with some high contrast and tonal colorways, ranging from bright, contrasting hues to more uniform gradations.

Each skein has a unique look due to varying color alignment in its multi-ply construction.

Cascade 220 ~ 100% Peruvian Highland Wool

Cascade 220 is the perfect worsted weight combination of affordability, quality and versatility.

Peruvian Highland Wool is a hybrid of native Corriedale with Merino resulting in loft, durability and fabulous stitch definition. Cascade 220 works up beautifully in cables, lace, colorwork, as well as simple stitch patterns.

This hand wash staple is ideal for heirloom quality garments in addition to accessories and felted projects.

Check out the deeply saturated colors of this wonderful yarn. Great for sweaters or shawls or felted bags!

JUST ARRIVED

Yurth Uneek and Harvest are both yarns from the brand, Urth Yarns, and they are often paired together because they complement each other well.

Uneek is a variegated, color-changing yarn, while Harvest is a solid-colored yarn, allowing for striking contrast and visual interest in knitting or crochet projects; both yarns are typically dyed using plant-based dyes on a merino wool base, making them a natural pairing for colorwork projects like shawls or wraps.

Urth Yarns ~ Uneek ~ Worsted

Uneek's self-striping magic journeys through 4 sets of stripe pairs, subtly shifting between colors along the way, without the hassle of having to change yarns and weaving in all those loose ends. This yarn is a delight to work with, if just to see where the colors lead.

Urth Yarns ~ Harvest ~ Worsted

Hand-dyed by Turkish artisans using plant based dyes. Like everything else in nature, the dyeing process results in slight changes in tones based on seasons, making each Harvest unique.
