Royals of India

The bygone era of Indian royalty still evokes awe and adulation from people all over the world. The splendor and opulence along with the tales of chivalry, romance, honor, respect, and sacrifice entice us to reminisce about the past. It is reflected in Bollywood movies, advertisements, TV soaps, lavish Indian weddings, and relived in every available opportunity even after 70 years of democracy in India. The rich textiles, luxurious silks, lavish Jewels; and grand palaces converted into 5 star hotels are but remnants of the monarchs who resided in them. Yet, thousands, nay millions, aspire to emulate and experience the royal Indian lifestyle.

India was the land of riches for many centuries, thereby attracting many invaders and traders. Some invaders like the Mughals, Mamluks, Greek, Portuguese, Turks, and Chinese not only ruled, but forged strategic matrimonial alliances in an attempt to consolidate their empire and make India their home. This integration is evident in the art, architecture, culture, and food of North India.

IndUS of Fox Valley invites you to IndUS - 2017 to experience the enchanting forts and palaces of the erstwhile Rajputana kingdoms in the North West, to be amazed by the valor of the Marathas in the West, the bravery of the Sikhs in the North, and be awed by the culture and temple architecture of the Rashtrakutas, Cholas, and Pallavas in the South.

Come, embark on a journey of the Raj with us at IndUS 2017 to the land of kings, invasions, epic battles, deceit, triumph, and love stories immemorial that shaped Indian history and culture. The journey will give you an opportunity to glimpse the history, legacy and lifestyles of maharanis and maharajas and certainly be treated like one.
