D.R.A. WINDS-UP HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL SWIMMING MEET

A total of 13 new Canadian records marked the conclusion of the 45th Annual Open Canadian Swimming and Diving Championships at Dorval last Thursday, as the 211 competitors from all across the Dominion packed their bags and headed for home.

Margaret Iwasaki of the Vancouver Dolphin Swim Club won the Beatrice Pines Trophy as Canada's outstanding female swimmer of the year; while Cameron Grout was awarded the Sir Adam Beattie Trophy, presented annually to the most outstanding Canadian male swimmer.

Mary Stewart, also of the Dolphin Club, and Richard Pound of the M.A.A.A. captured the Molson Trophies, which are presented annually to the man and woman making the best individual performances at the annual championships.

In addition to breaking the record for the men's 200-yard freestyle event in 1:53.4 on Tuesday, Pound won the men's 100-yard butterfly in 57.2 on Wednesday, and the 100-yards freestyle in 50.3 on Thursday.

Miss Stewart, also in true championship style, captured the women's 100-yard backstroke with the time of 1:05.6, the 100-yard butterfly in 1:03.4, and the 100-yard freestyle in 57.2 seconds.

Sandy Gilchrist of Ocean Falls, B.C. won his second medal of the meet on Wednesday, when he set a new Canadian record of 4:07.4 in the men's 40yard freestyle event. Another B.C. product, Kathy Campbell, broke her third Canadian record - also on Wednesday - when she churned through the 40-yards freestyle course in 4:37.1. Susan Elliot of Vancouver, was second and Patty Thompson of Hamilton placed third, in this event.

In the one metre diving, Ernie Meissner of Etobicoke Memorial Aquatic Club took first place with 140.81 points. Earlier, on Tuesday, Meissner captured the three metre diving championship. On the distaff side, Judy Stewart of Scarborough Police Youth Club won the one metre women's diving title by a very close margin, with a total point score of 90.95. Liz McGoey was second with 89.80, and Sherry Waldren was third with 88.63 points.

A final buffet reception and dance sponsored by the City of Dorval was held in H.M.C.S. Hochelaga through the courtesy of Commander P. Cossette, Commanding Officer, added the final touch to a highly-successful competition Thursday evening.

During the festivities, the following trophies were presented by Mayor John Pratt and Mrs. Pratt, Alderman Art Samson. D.R.A. President Gordon Kerr and Dr. Paul Hauch, Referee of the meet. ## Inter-City Track & Field Meet Aug 16

Track and field competitors from the Dorval, Pointe-Claire and Beaconsfield playgrounds will be striving to capture at least one of the four trophies to be offered at the 4th Annual Inter-City Track and Field Meet which is being held on Wednesday, August 16 at Courtland Park in Dorval. Of particular interest is the Inter-City Trophy, which will be presented to the City or Town with the highest aggregate points from all the parks under its jurisdiction. This trophy has been won by Pointe-Claire for the last three years, but Beaconsfield and Dorval participants feel strongly that this will not be the case this year. Actually, it looks as though all the teams will be fairly balanced, and will provide keen competition all round.

In addition, three inter-park trophies will be awarded to the most successful park team in each city, and there is a special open class team trophy which is retained by the winning park. Also, ribbons will be given to the first, second, third and fourth place winners in each event.

The meet will officially begin at 10:00 A.M. with many local dignitaries on hand to conduct the opening ceremonies. The invited guests include Mayor Pratt of Dorval, Mayor Seguin of Pointe-Claire and Mayor Briggs of Beaconsfield, as well as several Aldermen from the three localities.

The events are open to boys and girls age eleven and over, and entries will be accepted until Monday noon August 14. Anyone interested in entering the meet or who would like more details, please contact the playleader on the park closest to your home.

HOSPITAL REFERRAL PLAN UNIQUE IN MONTREAL

A unique hospital patient referral plant, the only one of its kind in Montreal, is paying handsome dividends in improved nursing care in the community. Introduced six years ago on a trial basis by the Victorian Order of Nurses of Greater Montreal, a Red Feather agency, and the Montreal General Hospital, the program put a specially-trained V.O.N. nurse into the hospital on a full-time basis to act as liaison between the V.O.N. and the hospital for patients requiring home nursing care. Today the referral plan is operating in both the Montreal

General and Royal Victoria Hospitals, and it is hoped that before long it will be introduced in the city's other English-language hospitals. Last year close to 1,800 Montreal patients received

Domestic Arts No Longer A Burden

POINTE - CLAIRE - The teaching of domestic arts is now part of the program of high schools for girls. Saint Thomas High School, at Pointe Claire, the largest high school ever built in Quebec by a Catholic School Commission, offers its pupils two culinary art and two sewing classrooms. More than two-hundred - and fifty French speaking girls from the 8th to the 11th grades, and more than one-hundred-and-fifty English-speaking girls of the 8th and 8th grades, took advantage of these courses for an average of two hours per week, last year.

Saint Thomas High School, besides these four special classrooms for the teaching of domestic arts, also provides music rooms, libraries, chemistry and physics laboratories, four recreation halls, two cafeterias, two gymnasiums, in fact everything necessary to make this institution a genuine high school campus.

With its forty-four regular and twelve special classrooms, Saint Thomas High School can accept 1,300 pupils. Next September, some 1,200 French and English-speaking boys and girls will be admitted.

The official inauguration of this unique institution will take place during the coming month of October.

The Hospital Fund is "moving into a final phase of canvassing," Mr. Harwood said. "We are examining returns in depth, so as to make sure that all possible returns are in our hands by the end of August."

Dorval Ave rebuilding set for '62

A $4,250,000, five-year plan covering major projects for the city has been presented to Council by Dorval City Manager Rene LeBlanc.

The projects, 15 in all, would be chargeable to the taxpayers at large and do not include the cost of financing new streets and similar improvements, since these would be payable by bordering property owners.

Mr. LeBlanc, in his detailed list presented to City Council, sets an estimated completion date for this sometime in 1963.

Third highest amount is $450,000 for the development of the former Elmridge Golf Club, where it is intended the new city hall and recreation centre would be located. Estimated year for the completion of this project is 1964, with work starting in 1962.

home nursing care through the new referral program. Before the system was introduced, all patients who required home nursing care were referred to the V.O.N. by hospital social workers. With the new program all patients referrals are handled through the one V.O.N. liaison at each hospital. The system provides for specific evaluation of patient nursing needs prior to discharge, and continuity of nursing care on a highly individual basis. The V.O.N. liaison works and medical social workers at the hospital and talks with patients who will require nursing care when discharged. "The patients seem to like to talk to a representative of the V.O.N. director of service of the Greater Montreal branch. "They appreciate knowing ahead of time why the nurse is coming and what kind of care they will be getting." In each case the doctor or intern fills in the medical part of a referral form, the nurse adds a nursing note and the liaison collects the remaining social and economic information. In this way the V.O.N. enters a new home with a full picture of the patient's needs and hospitalization. The V.O.N. sends a report back to the hospital before the clinic date. Follow-up clinic reports from the clinic to the V.O.N. and vice-versa continue as long as necessary. Experience at both Montreal hospitals using the system shows that doctors in the clinic find these reports invaluable. On the other hand, the V.O.N. finds the hospital directives and reports an indispensable tool to improve nursing in the home. "Our whole purpose is to provide patients with the best continuity of medical care possible", says Miss Brady, and the new program is doing

Mr. LeBlanc, in his detailed report to City Council, that his list of projects does not include

IN FOCUS

By K. M.

THAT WILL TEACH US: To desert beautiful Quebec and go off swimming in Lake Champlain we handed a Canadian dollar to a Vermont State Park attendant for admission to the picnic grounds and had to pay 10 cents exchange on the dollar. The real blow came when we were asked to pay another penny on the Canadian dime with which we paid the exchange!

FILMS TO BE AVAILABLE IN DORVAL: In an interview Mr. Nat Gray, President of the Greater Montreal Film Council outlined some very interesting details on a proposed Film Distribution plan through the Dorval Civic Library whereby films of all types will be made available for use by organizations at a nominal cost. Dorval City Council has been approached with the plan which has Mayor Pratt's enthusiastic support, and Alderman E. Raymond and Mrs. Anne Lachance have paid a visit to the Fraser-Hickson Institute to study a similar plan in action. Mr. John Miller of the National Film Board has been assisting with the planning of the project.

Mr. Gray explained that the Film Council is a volunteer organization which promotes the use of 16 mm. films. Representatives on the council form a hardworking, bilingual, inter denominational group of experts and film enthusiasts who work in close co-operation with the National Film Board and other film sources. Past President of the group and very active in its work is Mr. Gil Ferrabee of the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal whose work in Visual Education is well known. Another worker is a Roman Catholic nun whose special interest is working with young adults, and young immigrants. The Council promotes the circulation of National Film Board Films, Industrial Films and Special Films; it has some beautiful films from the C.P.R. and C.N.R. One film which was mentioned especially, purchased by the Council itself, is a new and expensive film on the Universe, a wonderful colour movie of great educational interest to children and adults.

The scope of the work of the Film Council is broad. It includes everything that encourages film distribution. Projectors are available for rental, and courses have been given on handling movie projector equipment of all kinds. Detailed catalogues indicate what films are available for distribution, and the lists which indicate subjects, length of film, and content, are circulated to local School Boards and other interested organizations. The Council promotes the showing of special films and proceeds go into the buying of more equipment.

One big drawback to film use has been the time and trouble involved in procuring the films. For Dorval Organizations, Clubs, Scouts, Schools, having a wide range of films available at the local library will be a great encouragement and there is certain to be a demand for films of all types. I predict that this will become a very popular part of the service at the Dorval Civic Library.

HERE AND THERE: Mayor John Pratt in a pithy commentary on "Theatre and Politics" in The Montrealer, August 1961 says, "The National Film Board is doing a fine job with documentaries but we should export general features as well to publicize ourselves. The Americans have sold their way through films and we could show that we are a little different"... Timely also with all the publicity on H.M.C.S. Hochelaga, a reminder that the local Sea Rangers, formerly S.R.S. Skema has become S.R.S. Hochelaga, meeting at the Fleet School, and enjoying summer privileges at Point Picard. Twelve girls from the surrounding area form a part of the S.R.S. Hochelaga. Any girl between 15 and 21 years of age, with or without Gaiing experience is welcome, and may have more information by calling J. Shipton at ME 1-0829.....Omitted in error from the Program of the 45 Swimming and Diving Championships the name of one of the D.R.A. Directors, Mr. B. Charland.

ON RAGWEED: Now I don't care for pulling weeds, and hayfever has never bothered me. But I have fallen under the spell of a very persistent young lady who insists that it is my (and everyone's) duty as a conscientious citizen to get out and start pulling up Ragweed. Frances Garwood is Chairman of the Beaconsfield Ragweed Control Committee, a soft spoken sincere individual with a way of getting directly to the point. She makes one's duty so plain, and the problem so important; she points out that it is so very easy to help. "Acknowledge that ragweed is a serious health menace, learn to recognize the weed, and become a campaigner for its eradication."

The Beaconsfield Ragweed Control Committee has been in existence for 2 years and has accomplished a number of concrete results. The Town Council of Beaconsfield has shown its support of their work by purchasing a sprayer which has been used effectively. A survey in a house to house canvass, as the committee began its work showed that only one out of a hundred persons recognized the plant. Setting out to correct this, members of the committee have visited schools with potted samples of ragweed, giving pupils help in learning to identify the plant. Committee members have also visited playgrounds with posters, and recruited eager helpers. Posters have been placed in Dr.'s offices along the Lakeshore. One very effective one was designed for the Committee by Gill Evans, Lakeshore artist and member of the Montreal Lakeshore University Women's Club. A pollen station, manned by a Biology student, has been set up, through the assistance of the Quebec Government, on top of Beaconsfield High School; station CFOX is lending its support to the campaign by broadcasting the local pollen count. An astonishing amount of publicity on the ragweed problem is the result of work carried out by this one small committee. The Beaconsfield Ragweed Control Committee is doing its best to get us all thinking about the discomfort suffered by those who get hayfever. "One is dangerous," Mrs. Garwood said, "And you may be allowing weeds to grow in an unwanted flower bed!" The recent Dorval City Council ruling regarding vacant lot cleanups will help --- and so can we!

Institute Explains Fish Odor In Clothes

Some foul protests have reached the National Institute of Dry-cleaning about the fishy odor in many new garments. It's especially noticeable in the summer heat and humidity.

Some consumers understandably believe that their drycleaner has added this odor.

The Institute explains that the odor is caused by a resin added by the manufacturer to make the garment "wrinkle-resistant." The resin may contain small amounts of urea-formaldehyde. Consequently the fishy odor.

A bulletin issued by NID to its members explains that, "The resin itself, properly cured in manufacture, has no odor."

Simply sniff the garments when shopping, advises the Institute. There's a good chance that dry-cleaning or laundering will not remove the odor.

MODELS WANTED

Two industrious Strathmore boys, Ken Mantha and Bruce Penniston have been busy all summer organizing a model show sets for August 18-19-20 and August 25-26-27 (from 2:00 to 5:00 o'clock in the afternoons, 7:00 to 9:00 o'clock in the evenings) at the Dorval Civic Library. In their search for models and pictures, they report a good response from the Companies they have approached but a disappointing response from individuals. The boys are asking model enthusiasts to register for the show any carefully made models, planes, trains, cars etc. The models may be original or made from kits. The model makers may be of any age, and the boys are hoping to have models submitted from all along the Lakeshore.

There is no admission charge for the show but Ken and Bruce hope that a silver collection will net the Library some money for books on models and hobbies. They are certain that the publicity in local newspapers and an interview on CFOX will add to the variety and number of models they now have on hand. Models may be enter by calling Ken Mantha ME 1-1738 or Bruce Penniston ME 1-3297

DORVAL LITTLE LEAGUE

The senators clinched the Dorval Little League championship last week, winning two games and ending the slight mathematic chance slight mathematic chance that they could be caught in the final two weeks of the league race. Outside first place, there was a considerable shift in team standing. Dodgers passed Braves into second place, and Giants taking over fourth place from Tigers.

Dodgers 5 — Braves 2

Bobby Reichelt held the Braves to 3 scattered hits and gave up 4 walks, while Dodgers collected 6 hits and 7 bases on balls off and 7 bases on balls off Jackie Pierotti in this battle for second place. The win was Reichelt's sixth against only one loss. Prudhomme, Danis and Raymond Wray each hit safely twice for the winners.

Red Sox 8 — Tigers 7

Bader was the winning pitcher, Brault the loser, in this tight game, both hurlers giving up 5 hits. The Red Sox came from behind in the bottom of the final inning to win on Blouin's triple. M. McEever of Red Sox and Katchen of Tigers each made two hits.

Senators 13 — Giants 8

Ollie Gautier won his fifth game without a loss, this time in relief. Mike Brown was the loser. Matticks hit 3 for 3 for the winners and Brown and Russell Wright each twice for the Giants.

Giants 2 — Braves 1

One of the most exciting games of the season ended in a 1-1 tie after 6 innings a week ago, and went another two innings to a decision a few nights later. Russell Wright went all the way for the winners, allowing only 4 hits, 3 walks and striking 9. Wright also knocked in the winning run in the final 1 inning. Anderson, Arless and Dalton divided the pitching chores for the Braves, the latter being charged with the loss.

Giants 14 — Braves 7

The Giants made it two straight on this free-hitting game. Hink was the winning pitcher, and Morris the loser. For the Giants Hartley, Hink and Russell Wright each collected 3 hits, and Morris duplicated the feat for Braves.

Dodgers 17 — Tigers 4

Raymond Wray gave up only 3 hits and was the winning pitcher as Dodgers turned their heavy artillery on Nicholson of Tigers. Dodgers' hitters included Inns with 4 for 4, Ferguson with 3 for 3 including a "grand slam" homer, and Hughes and Wray with 2 hits each. Duquette hit for 2 of Tiger Duquette hit for 2 of Tigers' 3 safeties.

DATELINE STRATFORD

In retrospect, it is the glamour of Stratford which stays with us, even after the magnificence of the productions, the flawless diction, the perfect authenticity of the costumes have blurred in our memory.

.....the white, white swans on the slow-winding amber Avon, the willowed parkland with its crisply dressed school-maams picnicking, paperbacks in hand before they regale themselves on the Bard at Wednesday's matinee.

.....the rainbow hue of summer, dresses mingling with the well dressed tropical suits at the evening performance.

.....the bright spot of orange which is the refreshment stand against the dark expanse of a summer night.

.....the stimulation provided by the Exhibit Halls highlighted by Mr. Diefenbaker's presence, in the act of having his picture taken in the French Canadian kitchen.

.....the hushed expectancy of the audience when the trumpets have sounded and the hammer on the boards signifies that the play is about to begin. All these and many more combine to give delight, and to afford reassurance that we Canadians are grown up and are able to take our pleasures, as the Europeans have done for centuries, not guiltily but with grace, as pleasures should be taken. Hats off to Tom Patterson and his crazy dream of a Stratford Festival. Now in its ninth year, the Festival can and should continue forever!

Promises to younger daughters must be fulfilled and we had promised, rashly perhaps, that next year she could come too. Next year became this year, and time having passed Diana found herself in the Stratford Festival Theatre, witnessing a performance of "Coriolanus". We remembered the play dimly as one remembers a play read twenty years ago. Was there something unhealthy in Gaius Martius' relationship with that formidable Roman matron, his mother? Was Coriolanus haughty and pig-headed or did he have that fatal pride-called hubris which leads inexorably to tragedy? Our memory was faulty, and we were unable, for once, to throw any light on the sombre pageant which a nine-year-old watched patiently to the end. We had hoped to see the players dressed in Roman regalia. The dull eighteenth century attire of the senators, the soldiers in Civil War uniforms and Tullus Aufidius looking like Napoleon, served only to deepen Diana's confusion and my gloom.

Two shafts of light there were that evening, however. The first was shed by Paul Schofield in his lucid and consistent interpretation of a character difficult to fathom. It was a fine and sensitive performance, the more remarkably so, because in this day of democracy one cannot initially feel too much sympathy with Coriolanus. Yet who has not experienced Coriolanus distaste for the masses? The "masses" as represented on the Festival stage were obviously odiferous. And who cannot sense, even vicariously, that pride which cannot stoop though very life depend upon the stooping?

Eleanor Stuart shed pure light in the scenes in which she appeared. Regal, stiff and Spartan, her cold exterior made the warmth of love she bore her son all the more poignant, and her rich voice and graceful movements were a pleasure to hear and see.

There was a third bright moment in our favourite nine year old's evening—the ending. What little girl with a personal sense of the dramatic would not thrill to the final exit, the bearing off of Coriolanus' body, his fine head thrown back, the roll of the muffled drums echoing in her ears. "I'd like to try that, Mummy" she confided rapturously. I sympathized having always longed to try it myself, but prevented only by size, shape and sex.

PLAYGROUNDS

Gardens "Par - 3 Course" were Gilles Lecavelier of Oriole Crescent Park, who shot a 67, and in the girls' section, Marise Raymond of Nihon Park, with a score of 106. A three-way tie in the boys' division brought second-place honours to Wayne Audete, Bob Todgell and Guy James, while Brenda Cheverton was second for the girls.

INTER-CITY TRACK & FIELD MEET

Senior members on the Dorval Playgrounds have already begun "getting in shape" for the Inter-City Track & Field Meet, to be held at Courtland Park on August 16, and they feel quite certain their chances of winning the inter-city trophy are better than they have been before.

In addition, this is the first time the meet has been held in Dorval, and it promises to be a very colourful and thrilling event for spectators as well as competitors.

BALLANTYNE PARK

This past Monday saw a large group of boys and girls in and around the sandbox at Ballantyne Park, trying their skill at sand-modelling. A contest was held to select the best models, and Leslie Anderson came first, with Lynda Hink a close second.

A very successful Penny Fair was held Wednesday evening, and the following morning featured a yo-yo contest and a tour of the T.C.A. Air Base, on Friday. Tonight, Thursday, an open-air dance will be held, with a band to provide entertainment.

Stated for Tuesday, August 15 is Indian Day, with one of the activities being a crafts contest. On Thursday August 17, Lafontaine Park will be the scene for an all-day picnic, with a "starlight" dance back at Ballantyne Park in the evening.

ST. CHARLES PARK

This Friday morning, St. Charles Park will be joining Riverside and Ballantyne Parks in a T.C.A. Air Base tour, and on August 17, they will be taking a trip to Lafontaine Park with Ballantyne, Riverside and Victoria Parks. On Monday, August 14, St. Charles will be playing two softball games against Ballantyne Park; juniors in the morning, seniors in the afternoon.

NEPTUNE PARK

This afternoon and evening, August 10, Neptune Park is holding its annual Penny Fair, and on Friday morning at Jimmy Tapp, genial host on Channel 12's weekly magazine show, Carte Blanche strikes a familiar pose to devotees of this popular Montreal show seen weekdays from 5:45 to 7:00 p.m.

10:30 A.M. there will be a kickball game against Victoria Park, with a senior softball game against Riverside in the afternoon. On Monday, August 15, a junior softball game will be played at Courtland, with a senior game against Nihon Park on Tuesday. This coming Thursday will feature an all-day picnic, starting at 10:00 A.M. and will include boys and girls from Neptune, Walters, and Nihon Parks.

NIHON PARK

This Thursday, August 10, the senior softball team will be playing a game against St. Charles Park, and on Friday morning a horseshoe tournament will take place between Nihon and Walters Parks horseshoe champs. A junior softball game against Victoria Park is slated for Monday morning, August 14.

ORIOLE CRESCENT PARK

This afternoon and evening, August 1 Oriole Crescent, Westwood and Surrey Gardens Parks will be combining their efforts for what promises to be a highly successful Penny Fair. It will be held at Surrey Gardens, and the park leaders have come up with a wide variety of booths to challenge the interests of both young and old.

On Monday August 14, Oriole Crescent will be playing a junior softball game against Westwood Park, and the following day will be highlighted by a "Hobo Picnic."

CRAFT DISPLAY

Again this year the Dorval playgrounds will be having a craft display on August 21, 22, 23. This will include the best crafts made on each park throughout the summer, as well as a small scale model of an african village from each park.

CLEANING FOR THE BIRDS

A Silver Spring, Maryland, member of the National Institute of Drycleaning professionally came to the aid of at least one dozen sparrows recently on a hot Sunday afternoon when he answered the tearful plea of his nine year old son. It seems that the birds were trying to pluck bugs from some newly laid and very soft asphalt and immediately became stuck, feet, wings and tail feathers in the gooey substance. Armed with song boards, for rescue purposes, toothbrush and gasoline the birds were professionally hand cleaned and released.

However, one sparrow has remained in the drycleaner's household for further cleaning plus a little additional tailoring.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the family of the late Mr. Camille Wallace Turpin who died suddenly at his residence on Cloverdale Avenue on August 2nd and whose funeral was held Saturday morning from the Church of the Presentation of our Lady.

Congratulations to Miss Gail Allard who graduated recently as an airline stewardess with Trans-Canada Airlines. Miss Allard was a former Miss Dorval and we wish her every success in her new endeavour.

HOW TO TELL WOMEN FROM MEN: SEE HOW THEIR COATS BUTTON

Research into the history of fashion reveals several versions of the same basic story. Tailored garments had their origin in England. Clothing was designed originally for convenience and comfort. But chivalry and horsemanship had their influence, too. A man riding on a horse could not be hampered or restricted by his clothes at a crucial moment when he might need to pull a swift saber or a pistol from his holster. To facilitate a fast draw with the right hand from a scabbard on the left, men's coats were designed to button from left to right.

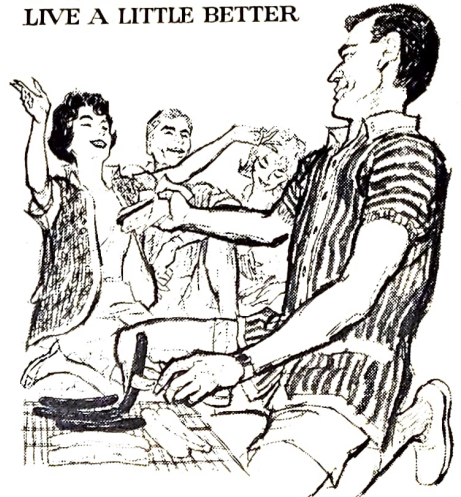

The modest women of those early days wore skirts designed to cover the ankle... almost. Because of their long, heavy skirts, ladies found it more comfortable to ride a horse side-saddle. Stirrups were on the left flank of the horse. To protect the lovely ladies from cold and disheveling winds, clothing designers made women's coats so that they buttoned from right to left. Consequently, the winds could not separate the two side-fronts of the coat.

While these reasons seem of no importance today, we are the victims of convention. Men's and women's coat designs have been handed down from one generation to another. It would be a venturesome designer who would violate this time-honored rule, says the Institute. And would men and women accept a change? We wonder!
