

Addressing Waterblast & Lancing Safety Concerns

As a corrective action to address and prevent waterblast injuries, PSI Industrial Solutions has revised its waterblast program to address new equipment purchases, and to implement new procedures which incorporate a new waterblast permit program.

PSI's investment in flex lance safety stops, prevent the lance from withdrawing out of the tube under pressure, thereby preventing an injury. PSI waterblast personnel performing waterblast/lancing services, will be issued TurtleSkin® Water Armor, offering increased protection.

To further enhance worker safety, PSI applied for, and has been approved for a BWC Safety Intervention Grant to purchase automated lancing equipment that will remove the lance from the workers hands while under pressure. The automated lance is expected to set new safety standards and provide operator comfort and protection.
