Time: 6:30 PM to 8:00 PM

Where: St. Thomas Deaf Church

(in Grace Episcopal Church)

Come and dance!

Learn the art of folk dance and experience a form of joyful community with peoples of the world.

Zeke Leventhal-Arnold will teach and lead a variety of SIMPLE international folk dances from different countries. These dances are for people new to this kind of movement.

What is international folk dancing?

Generally we link hands, form a long line, and follow the steps of the leader. Experienced dancers will be close to help guide you. Simply move in the direction of the line, and you will catch on. These are line and circle dances.

Zeke was a professional ballroom dance instructor. Since he took a folk dance class at Washington University 35 years ago, he has been with the International Folk Dance Association of University City and now chairs their programming and teaching committee. Zeke is also with the Olivette Folk Dance Monday Night group.

Lo Freeman is our sign language interpreter for the evening.
