

SUNDAY MORNING
meditation

Jesus was “tempted in all points as we are, yet without sin” (Heb. 4:15). Therefore temptation is not sin. There’s no sin in temptation; only when we yield to it.

Some demon may fill and defile your mind with all manner of unclean or blasphemous thoughts so that you feel dirty and guilty, but ungodly thoughts aren’t sinful thoughts unless we welcome or entertain them. When such temptations come they’re often attended by guilt-producing accusations of Satan. I know a godly woman who for years was deluged with ungodly, polluting thoughts whenever she tried to pray and read the Bible. She hated and completely disowned the thoughts, so, though distressed, she wasn’t defiled by them. Such thoughts are from Satan’s arsenal, the “fiery darts” he casts at us. We can’t prevent them from coming, but we’re free to treat them as what they are--temptations of Satan to be resisted. All for Jesus, Richard
