National Association of Area Agencies on Aging

John A Hartford Foundation (JAHF) Business Innovation Award

Purpose – The purpose is to highlight the successes of social services agencies that are partnering with health care entities, such as hospitals and health plans and spur their replication. The award will recognize one or more social service agencies that have made significant strides to partner with health care entities to improve the quality of life for older adults and/or people with disabilities. The work of the award winner shall be evidence of outstanding works of bold, early transformative initiatives designed to integrate health care and long-term services and supports.

Nomination Process – Nominations are encouraged from a broad array of community-based organizations that work in the aging and disability networks. The award will be presented at the 41st n4a Annual Conference in San Diego, CA, and includes a plaque and monetary award up to $500.

Selection of the Recipient(s)– One or more recipients will be eligible for selection. The Award Subcommittee of the Advisory Committee of the National Aging and Disability Business Center will review nominations according to the following criteria:

- 25 percent – Innovator in pioneering new business models
 - 25 percent – Partner in establishing new relationships with health care entities
 - 25 percent – Risk-taker in pursuing new approaches to doing business and aligning leadership and staff in new directions
 - 25 percent – Achiever in establishing contracts with health care entities and building sustainable funding models for the future

The nominator of the Award winner and Award winner will be notified in advance of n4a's 41st Annual Conference & Tradeshow in San Diego, CA where the Award will be presented. Individuals and/or organizations are permitted to nominate themselves.

Deadline – Submit nomination to n4a no later than Monday, June 27 to be considered for the JAHF Business Innovation Award. Email or fax form to: Mary Kaschak at mkaschak@n4a.org; 202-872-0057.
