

Summary of Teaching Evaluations

David Stamps, Adjunct Professor
Santa Barbara City College – Fall 2017 and Spring 2018
Mean Scores (out of 5.0)

	Introduction to Communication (Fall 2017)	Public Speaking (Fall 2017)	Public Speaking (Spring 2018)	Public Speaking (Spring 2018)
Course Content and Organization	4.6	4.5	4.6	4.4
Instructor's Knowledge and Teaching Ability	4.7	4.8	4.7	4.6
Recommendation of Instructor and Course	4.75	4.6	4.9	4.7
Student Grade Analysis	4.8	4.9	4.9	4.8

Select quotes from Student Course Evaluations:

“Professor Stamps is effectual, extremely well-versed in the material and provides a comfortable and safe space for students to interact and ask questions. In a public speaking course, there can be circumstances in which difficult topics get brought up and Professor Stamps handles this effortlessly by giving agency to every single person in the room.”

“This course really does help you become a better public speaker and lets people delve into something new. I also appreciate how the professor gets us motivated to speak by showing us personal examples through some of his lectures.”

“My teacher is incredibly knowledgeable about the subject and relates it to his personal life and his career which makes things very clear. I appreciate what he says especially because I know he has experienced most of this first hand in the work place. Mr. Stamps has inspired me and encouraged me a lot and I appreciate his class.”

“I have never been more involved or enthusiastic about a class then I have with this course. I come in the class happy and look forward to engaging in the subject and discussions. Mr. Stamps creates a positive and warm communication environment that has allowed so many of the students to feel comfortable enough to consistently ask questions, voice opinions, and engage in class discussion.”

“Stamps brings so much positive energy to the classroom environment. His lectures are upbeat and captivating and most of the time really funny.”