“Now to him who is able to do immeasurably more than all we ask or imagine, according to his power that is at work within us, to him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus throughout all generations, for ever and ever! Amen.” Ephesians 3:20

A Typical Day at Sonlight Bay

Imagine a school where the teacher joyfully greets your children at the door and waves “good morning” to you, the parents, as you set off on your way. Imagine a school where the children start their daily routine by unpacking and willingly race to immediately dive into their individual assignments while awaiting the arrival of their peers...imagine them retrieving their iPads, checking their accounts for personal instruction, thus instantly and automatically being engaged. Imagine a school where the week’s student chaplain begins the day at 8:15 in prayer followed by pledges to the American flag, Christian flag, and Bible, ending with teacher led prayer covering the students’ prayer requests. Imagine a school where the day unfolds as students rotate through varying stations and/or receive individualized instruction in Math, History, Science, Reading, Writing, Spelling, Grammar, Bible, Keyboarding, Spanish, Music, Art, and PE; a school where one-to-one technology is integrated throughout our blended learning environment; a school where the students thirst for knowledge; a school with a small class that allows for more individualized and personalized instruction; a school where the teacher has flexibility in challenging, facilitating, guiding, and directing each student; a school where the students are encouraged to move beyond standard grade level expectations and go as far as they possibly can; a school where socialization is encouraged throughout the day during recess, lunch, and collaboration on assignments and projects.

Imagine a school where students are excited about and engaged in Passion Projects where their gifts and talents are utilized to create, explore, and solve problems. Imagine a school where students learn skills to assist them in managing their time and self-monitoring themselves as they flow from subject to subject and assignment to assignment. Imagine a school where chapel is all about encouraging the students to praise, worship, seek, and discover God...who He is, their relationship with Him, and their servant relationship within the world. Imagine a school where the students enjoy learning to the degree where they eventually look up at the clock and expound, “Where did the day go, and how did it go by so quickly?” Imagine a school where the students pack up, the student chaplain closes the day in prayer, the teacher walks them to their vehicles at 3:15, greets and speaks with the parents, and smilingly waves as they drive off bringing closure to another blessed day. Above all else, imagine a school where this entire experience is undergirded by God’s Word as together, the students and the teacher, seek His truths throughout the various subjects through a biblical worldview perspective. This is a typical day at Sonlight Bay.
