

The United Taxidermists of New York Presents:
Three Time “NTA Taxidermist of the Year”

Rick Carter

Whitetail Anatomy & Mounting Seminar

Rick will conduct a seminar covering whitetail deer anatomy from the inside out. He will provide skeletal and muscular reference. Rick will cover how the bone structure, and their locations underneath, affect the skin arrangement and hair patterns. Ear anatomy, as well as eye contour & expression will be studied in detail. Rick will share his tanning methods and mounting procedures. He will also discuss presentation, habitat and some of the latest trends. The floor will be open for discussion and questions on any topic. McKenzie Taxidermy Supply will offer reference materials and products for demonstration and door prizes.

Do not miss this chance to improve your work to the next level!

Rick Carter is a two time North American Whitetail Champion.
