

Beth Hagerman is a Toronto-based soprano celebrated as “a clear, strong lyric with a wonderful bloom in her upper register [and with] her acting... on point.” (Schmopera). In January, she was presented by Opera San Miguel in the 3rd Annual Mexico-Canada Co-OPERA-tive Concert in San Miguel, Mexico. In April 2016, Ms. Hagerman sang as Leonora in Opera Nova Scotia’s concert production of Fidelio and was the resident soprano at the NAC’s Young Artist Program in June. In 2015, she played Nedda in Maritime Concert Opera’s production of I Pagliacci. Ms. Hagerman was the recipient of the 2016 IRCPA Lois McDonall Scholarship.