Biography for Mike Cano

Mike Cano has quickly risen through the comedy ranks to become a favorite at clubs and colleges all across the country.

Mike has performed and opened for some of the biggest names in comedy. His comedic style and energy are off the charts.

Mike became a single father at the age of 16. He uses his struggles, experiences, and triumphs in his jokes to make people laugh. Mike relates to all ages as he jokes about juggling the comedian life, dating and parenthood.

You could say that Mike Cano has been entertaining his whole life. As a young child, Mike would dress up and put on “shows” for family and friends. He always has something witty to say, even as a child, and his love for making people laugh blossomed as a young adult. He was known as the class clown. Mike performed in theater and dance throughout high school and some would say “DRAMA” is Mike’s middle name.

Mike performs his stand up comedy in the comedy clubs throughout the Los Angeles, Orange County and the Inland Empire.

He has appeared at venues like the Ice House, The Improv (Hollywood, Ontario, Brea, Irvine, and San Jose), The Comedy Store, The Laugh Factory, Jon Lovitz Comedy Club and many more along with producing his own comedy rooms. You’ve also seen him on LAUGHS on FOX, MTV2, VH1, NBC Universal’s Mun2 TV and Latino 101.

Mike produces his own monthly show in his hometown of Ontario CA at the Ontario Improv. He performs comedy for corporations, fundraisers, private parties, schools, retreats and churches.
