JUNE 2015

Note: Irish-American Society meetings are usually held on the second Friday of each month, except during July and August (and for special events). The usual meeting location is the Edelweiss Am Rio Grande German-American Club (GAC), 4821 Menaul, NE (west of San Mateo).

Next Event: Friday, June 12th, 7:00 PM

"The Irish: A Culture of Suffering and Resilience from Famine to US Immigration"

At our June meeting, we will hear a lecture by our own (new) IAS member, Sarah Jones, on the history of the Irish during the Famine years and their subsequent migration to the U.S. In Sarah's own words, "The Irish people have suffered some of the greatest hardships, racism, and poverty in the Western world. Their plight was rooted in racism that shaped the Irish culture and forced them to find new ways of survival. The Great Famine starting in 1845 was a time of great suffering that led to a mass migration to America. The documentary, Uncovering the Real Gangs of New York [referencing the Martin Scorsese-directed movie, Gangs of New York], details the hard life Irish immigrants led and how the formation of gangs and reacting with violence allowed them to finally gain some footing. I use anthropological theories to back up my thesis that many Irish assimilated by joining the violence around them as means of survival." Sarah is a recent graduate of Fort Lewis College in Durango, Colorado, and her presentation is based on her thesis for her BA degree in anthropology. She and her mother, Tracey, have long been interested in their Irish heritage. Tracey's mother came over to the US on the Queen Mary in the 1920s, married a US soldier, and moved to Gallup, NM. (Tracey also makes Celtic jewelry.) We hope to see you there and we hope that you will bring a sweet or salty snack to share!

Important Notice:

To save on printing and mailing expenses, we will no longer publish a newsletter (either hardcopy or electronic) in July and August. (We do not have any meetings or programs during those months, either.) So your next newsletter will arrive in your emailbox or snail-mailbox sometime in mid-August, with information about our next meeting and program (September 11th) and our annual picnic (September 13th).

President's Message

Dear IAS Members:

Another month has passed—and what a whirlwind of a month it was! We had a wonderful Kickoff Party for the Rio Grande Valley Celtic Festival, complete with singing, pipes and drums, dancing—even pirates! The GAC was packed; the food great and the camaraderie in the air could be felt by all. The Celtic festival also was one for the books, complete with sunshine, wind, rain and hail—but still a good time was had by those who attended.

I would also like to personally thank all of our members who volunteered their time to assist at the IAS booth during the Celtic Festival. They helped to field questions from the crowds that surrounded our booth, always wearing a smile and doing their best to share Celtic customs, knowledge, or just a helping hand.

Looking forward, we now have warm weather coming upon us and that means school graduations, vacations, the advent of summer, and a hiatus in July and August for our meetings. Locally there will be many events, such as the Albuquerque Folk Festival in June, the Santa Fe Wine Festival in July, and countless local goings on that can keep everyone occupied. Or you can just put up your feet and enjoy the blue New Mexico skies.

I hope you all enjoy your summer and I look forward to seeing you at our General Meeting on September 11th. And don't forget to mark your calendar for Sunday, September 13th, which is the date for the joint Celtic picnic at Elena Gallegos Park.

Membership Report

By Caitlin Sandberg, Membership Director

Céad Mile Fáilte: A hundred thousand welcomes to our new members: Gene & Helen Cottingham; Leroy Pino; Tony Holderith & Pauline Toward; Charlie & Yvonne Boelkins; Martha McMahon; Sean Mulkearns; Becky Ciaramitaro; Richard Jack; Patrick J. Johnson, Alisa & Maureen; Kathleen Bryers & Matthew Garver. And of course thank you to the many of you who have renewed your memberships. As of 4/17/15 we have 129 singles, 93 couples (X2), and one college student, for a total count of 316 for the 2015 membership year.

THANK YOU to IAS members (and relatives and friends of IAS members) and GAC members for bringing me hundreds of baggies, jars, and cans of pull tabs for the Ronald McDonald Pop Tab Program. The Ronald McDonald House opened in 1982 to provide a home away from home to families from across New Mexico who must bring their ill children to Albuquerque for life-saving medical treatment. Over 10,000 family lodging nights are provided annually in the Albuquerque facility. There are hundreds and hundreds of adults and youths who provide thousands of volunteer hours for the Ronald McDonald House.

There are also Family Rooms available for a snack, cold drink, or coffee for families who just need some R & R but are still very close to their sick children. There are over 16,000 visits annually in these special Family Rooms in the Ronald McDonald House, located on Yale, NE, in the UNM Children's Hospital and Presbyterian Hospital.

The aluminum or steel pull tabs donated from beverage cans or ANY kind of canned food (6000 + pounds annually) generate funds to offset House expenses. YOUR donations make a significant impact and are very much appreciated. Thanks to Don & Fran Hardy; Eunice Foley; Jan Nielsen & granddaughter Leah Nielsen.

A Road Runner Food Bank Barrel has been placed in the German-American Club. Please bring NON-PERISHABLE FOOD ITEMS (prepackaged and canned goods) if you care to donate. The food drive will be going on through the month of June.

Dancing at Matt Molloy's Pub

By David Barnaby, IAS-NM Member

Little did I know when my wife, Jennie, and I stepped into Matt Molloy's pub in Westport, Co. Mayo, in March of 2015 that I'd be experiencing one of my favorite Ireland moments. Mick Molloy is a world-famous flautist and promoter of traditional Irish music. An original member of the influential Bothy Band in the 1970s, his stature rose even further when he was recruited into the internationally renowned Irish band, The Chieftans. He is the winner of two Grammys, which are proudly displayed behind the bar of his pub.

The pub is located half-way down the length of Bridge Street, which is one of the main thoroughfares in the old part of Westport. Westport itself is relatively new as Ireland goes, having been designed and constructed by Anglo-Irish gentry around 1790. Like the town, the pub is a mixture of styles and traditions old and relatively new (for instance, the pub provides free wi-fi). The layout consists of three consecutive rooms about the size of large living rooms. The front room has the decorated bar with the two Grammys flanking the mirror behind the barkeep. The "regulars" bar is in the next room, and all the way in the back is largest room, where every night there's a session with local and visiting musicians. There is a fireplace on the far end and the walls sport dozens of pictures of Irish musicians and music-festival posters, as well as signs indicating the benches reserved for the musicians.

As we waited for the musicians to arrive, several people walked past us out the back door. Curious, we finally followed to discover a fourth room, a covered patio, where the regular Monday set dance class was meeting. They welcomed us warmly and upon learning we were also set dancers, insisted what we join. We had great fun dancing the Louisburg, Rincenstown, and Merchant sets before class ended at 10 PM, by which time the session had begun in the fireplace room. Though the session was crowded, we found space to squeeze in (likely because Monday night attracts a smaller audience).

Eight musicians were playing, led by an older fiddler who—not surprisingly—knew a lot of tunes. The real surprise came after about 20 minutes when the set-dance teacher came over and asked if we would dance a set with another couple. Would we ever! But we barely had time to slip on our dance shoes while the fiddler asked the audience to clear a little space in the middle of the floor. So, then, in the session room with scores of tourists snapping pictures, we danced the Connemara set. We have danced to the music of many fine Ceili bands, but always with the band on stage rather than eight feet away in the living room. The intimacy made the music even more spectacular as our new dance friends treated us to an unforgettable night. For after all, you can hear a session there any night, but how many Irish-Americans can say that they've danced at Matt Molloy's?

Irish Music Session

There is an open Irish music session every Thursday night at Joliesse Chocolates, on 4th St, Albuquerque, 7-9. All are welcome to participate or just enjoy listening. We play mostly traditional Irish tunes, and do some singing as well. Musicians, please bring a chair as the venue may not have enough.

New from Apple Mountain Music! Slow Celtic Session

Tom Tunney, Host. Please join us from 10:00 AM - 12:00 PM on the first Saturday of every month, for a guaranteed SLOW Celtic session. (Fee: Donation.) The tune list will be limited to about a dozen tunes at a time so we can learn them from memory. We will work on how to learn the tunes using recordings and sheet music as well as various resources available online. It's not necessary to know how to read music, but we will spend some time learning that if anyone is interested. All instruments are welcome, but you should be able to play at least at a beginner's level.
