Preliminary announcement that Dr. Fiona Black and Dr. Andrew Wilson will be joining us again virtually on Tuesday, January 19, 2021 to answer questions generated at the session held in November. More information will follow.

WISHING EVERYONE A HOLY AND MERRY Christmas!

We all need a little tender, loving care this year. This has got to be one of the most trying and relentlessly challenging times in recent history. Yet as I see where we are at this point, I am almost giddy with excitement for the future.

Our parishes have responded nobly to the challenges, in an active and prayerful way that has brought a renewed vibrancy to our church. People from all over have been flocking to our masses, both Sunday and weekday. Regular sessions for Reconciliation and Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament are available and well attended on a weekly basis. Adult study of the Doctors of the Church has become a regular event. Our Youth and Catechism programs continue to lead our church toward a healthy future.

The extraordinary work of our many service partners is beyond satisfying. Ray of Hope Soup Kitchen, St. Vincent de Paul, St. Augustine Housing Corporation, CWL, our outreach to the world's refugees are heroic efforts that build the Kingdom of God one beautiful brick at a time. So often our parishioners are at the forefront of charitable and justice activities that nourish and protect the poor, the sick and the disadvantaged: community gardens, Right to Life, food boxes and clothing, support for the elderly.

We have maintained an energy level that celebrates God, praises Him with our actions and energy. We occasionally come up with the right words but we have let our faith in action do most of our talking.

I could not be more proud to be your pastor. I thank God for this blessing that has been my priesthood, and to be the priest at Queen of All Saints. The support of the staff and volunteers, all the committee members have worked so hard and so successfully to build this church, and I bless them with my whole heart. The parishioners of this parish can be proud of their commitment and efforts over the past year. May God bless each and every one of you.

MERRY CHRISTMAS! Father Angus

Exploring our Faith

Nothing is Impossible with God!

In this week's Gospel account, the Angel Gabriel appears to Mary to tell her that she would bear a child who would be holy, called Jesus the Son of God. His words, "FOR NOTHING WILL BE IMPOSSIBLE WITH GOD" have resonated over these thousands of years. These seven words have been the inspiration for many followers, faith-believers, over time.

The sport company Adidas had an ad years ago - Impossible Is Nothing. It was a very inspirational and motivational campaign, reminding people that anything is possible. Reminding us that records and human limitations are meant to be broken. Reminding us that we can do great things. And, in the way that is true for worldly things, this is true in the spiritual realm as well. No matter what we are going through right now, no matter how impossible the situation may seem, no matter how helpless or hopeless we may feel, we should remember this, NOTHING IS IMPOSSIBLE WITH GOD. God's power is infinite. Therefore, we should have faith in Him, His power, and His love for us. May we be inspired to have Faith and hope in God, no matter what the situation may be. The flame of Hope should never go out of our lives for, with hope, each of can live with Peace, Faith and Love.

I learned through my parents, who had very strong faith, that things do not always go as planned, as hoped. In my final year of high school (Grade 13 in Ontario) in 1968-69 I wanted to go to university to study Journalism. However, financially, it wasn't possible so I chose the one-year Teachers' College program. I was very disappointed, but my parents both encouraged me to make the most of the opportunity and trust that things would work out. "Say your prayers and keep faith", they said. My first year with my own class reinforced their idea, their trust and I have had a very rewarding, successful career as an educator. I met my husband and moved to New Brunswick (Albert County) because of this career. I worked with wonderful administrators and fellow teachers who became life-long friends. What I once thought was not what I wanted, became an opportunity for happiness for a lifetime; something beyond my expectations became possible. My parents would not have known it would work so well but they knew, because of their unwavering faith, that with God all things are possible.

On this fourth Sunday of Advent, as we get closer to celebrating the mystery of the true Christmas, let us try to have a positive outlook during these difficult pandemic-ruled times. We will miss many gatherings with family and friends and it will be hard to accept. Instead, think of it as a time of character strengthening, reinforcing our lives as a testimony to the miraculous power of Hope. It is important to have Faith because, when we have faith, we trust in God. When we have Faith we begin to become familiar with and know God. When we trust God, we can tap into both a fountain of courage and of life-giving hope. The more we get to know God, the more we can understand that nothing is impossible with God.

Henri Nouwen wrote, "Somewhere we know that without silence, words lose their meaning; that without listening, speaking no longer helps; that without distance, closeness cannot cure." Perhaps we should take the time to appreciate the silence, the listening, and the closeness often sensed when we slow our pace, contemplate, pray, open our hearts to what could be possible in the midst of hurt, grief, turmoil, troubles. We can be still and know that God is there with us. And remember: NOTHING IS IMPOSSIBLE WITH GOD!

COVID-19: A REFLECTION

We will never forget the year 2020 as the year of the pandemic! A small virus paralyzed the world!

The last months have been difficult. For a time, all activities were put on hold. We suffered through this confinement in many ways: fear, anxiety, uncertainty, routines disrupted, separation from loved ones, job loss, the realization that our planet is very ill. Some people, became infected and died alone under unimaginable circumstances, followed by a cruel period of grief for the surviving loved ones, who no longer had the support of their loved ones and the community.

For many, it was a time to stop and reflect on the importance of their faith. Some report having prayed more than ever because they needed God's strength and peace. They couldn't wait to return to church, in their own faith community. Others found watching mass on television, in the comfort of their home, perfect for them, and still is.

Would it be exaggerating to say that our Church's structure as we know it is being tested? Are our parishes at a crossroads? During this particularly difficult time, it is more important than ever to bring Jesus' message to the people who need him the most. Could it be that Pope Francis' call to go out there is becoming more critical than ever as difficult as it is for us to let go some well established and familiar structures and practices?

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, there are now restraints in our way of doing things. To find enough volunteers so that the guidelines could be followed, we had to work together. Our different expertise didn't matter. Has the pandemic forced us to work more closely in order to achieve our goal of keeping everyone safe?

We are very limited in our way of doing things. We have to respect social distancing as well as the other guidelines. This makes it difficult to approach people, to touch them physically. We are very much like the disabled who need to find alternate ways of doing things that other people do without a second thought.

This period of confinement has certainly forced us to stop and concentrate on what is essential in our lives. Will the Spirit guide us so that we can take a good look at what is essential in our Church as well? Do we truly believe that He is working through us during this trying time? Do we actually ask him for guidance in the same way the early Christians did?

The most essential part of our mission as a Church is to be welcoming, to offer forgiveness and love so that the people we interact with can feel God's love through us. A sincere heart, even with its mistakes and weaknesses, can make Christ's presence felt. If this is true, it therefore means that it isn't uniquely through our rituals and structures that we recognize Jesus first. As such, we can continue the Church's mission even during this difficult period of COVID-19.

The pandemic has put emphasis on our societal weaknesses. We have discovered that essential workers are often the ones who are paid the least. We have realized that the food we eat depends a lot on imported products. We have learned that our elderly do not always receive the care they need and that there is a shortage of personnel.

Yet, the crisis has also highlighted society's strengths. Our political leaders put aside their differences and worked together for the well being of all New Brunswickers to prevent the spread of COVID-19. They demonstrated resilience, a capacity to adapt and creativity. At the onset of the pandemic, essential workers ignored their fears and continued to serve their communities.

According to a quote attributed to Pope Francis, once the pandemic is over we can't expect to do the same things in the same way as we did before. Will society be better or worse? If we look at all the suffering this pandemic has caused...will it have taught us to work towards a just and fair society, a more Christian society? (May 30, 2020 Agence-Presse).

In another message published on June 13, 2020 in the Journal Le Soleil, Pope Francis said that the Church does not have global solutions for the cries of the poor. Our spiritual and material wealth has been put to the test and we realize that we are scared. Confined to our homes, we have discovered the importance of simplicity. We have stopped and understood what is truly important.

My greatest wish is that, after this pandemic, we can genuinely focus on fighting injustices, on becoming one with nature and on working towards greater peace with one another. How do we go about accomplishing such a big task?

Henri J.M. Nouwen (in his book Vivre sa foi au quotidien), says that when he sees all the suffering in the world and his desire to put a stop to it, he realizes that it is important to not let himself become paralyzed by feelings of powerlessness and guilt. We must be faithful to our vocation, doing small things that are asked of us, and feel the joy, satisfaction and peace it brings. It is important to follow the example of Jesus, confident that we are truly capable, through Him, to be a sign of hope.

I encourage you to be this sign of hope in a world disrupted by COVID-19, always looking at what is truly essential in order to come out of this pandemic better than ever before.
