16th Georgia, Co. G, "The Jackson Rifles" on Parade in Lake City, FL - Saturday, February 16, 2019

The 43rd Annual Olustee Battle Reenactment (aka Battle of Ocean Pond Reenactment) was held on February 15-17, 2019 at the Olustee Battlefield State Park near Sanderson, Florida. This is the site of Florida's largest battle. Re-enactors (men, women and children) portray military personnel (infantry, artillery, cavalry, medical), members of the U.S. Sanitary Commission, and Civil War era civilians and sutlers. Numerous Civil War authors and historical exhibitors can be seen throughout the weekend. Part of the event is a Saturday morning parade in Lake City. We deeply appreciate the images from the camera of Heidi Edge
