Cornwall Iron Furnace DAR offering free genealogy workshop

Members of the public are invited to a free genealogy workshop hosted by the Cornwall Iron Furnace Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the Palmyra Area Community Library March 19 at 11 a.m.

The workshop will be taught by a DAR certified genealogist. Several topics and resources will be discussed including: free resources of genealogical information, how to access subscription based genealogical resources like ancestry.com, and other resources available. Additionally, information will be given on where to go for birth, death and marriage certificates.

“If you’ve ever thought you may be related to a Revolutionary War patriot or you are interested in learning more about genealogy please come join us. We are looking forward to this inaugural event,” said Chapter Regent H. Rebekah Waddell.

For more information visit <http://www.cornwallironfurnacedar.org/> or contact the Chapter Regent H. Rebekah Waddell, at info@cornwallironfurnacedar.org or 717-926-1098.

The DAR, founded in 1890 to honor "God, Home, and Country," and headquartered in Washington, DC, is a nonprofit, non-political volunteer women's service organization dedicated to promoting patriotism, preserving American history, and securing America's future through better education for children. Annually, over 175,000 DAR members in 3,000 chapters volunteer more than 250,000 hours to veteran patients, award thousands of dollars in scholarships and financial aid to students, and support schools for underserved children with donations exceeding a million dollars. Any woman 18 years or older - regardless of race, religion, or ethnic background - who can prove lineal descent from a patriot of the American Revolution, is eligible for membership.
