

Dear friend of Paris Ballet Conservatory and Paris Ballet and Dance,

We all share the ideal that the arts create a better community. Arts and dance have the power to inspire and transform. A dancer is not only a passionate artist, but a well-trained athlete. Dancers must take class almost every day of both their student AND professional lives. This keeps them in shape while they continue to learn, improve and become a better artist.

A donation to Paris Ballet Conservatory keeps that artistry alive, growing and strong. Dance is an expensive art. A student trains for many years before getting their first big chance in the professional world. In so many instances, talented and gifted children will never get their chance to dance simply because they can't afford it.

A donor not only believes dance entertains delights, innovates and transforms. They believe that dance makes any student a stronger, and a more confident human being. These donors also keep dreams alive!

Thank you for becoming an active and yearly member
...Not only with Paris Ballet Conservatory but within the entire community, as well.

Sincerely,
Jean-Hugues Feray
Founder and Director
