

PLEIADIAN PALACE OF SUSA

The actual dimension of the Pleiades is in phi ratio and matches the square layout and foundation of the entire structure of the Royal Palace; the 'Palace of the Pleiadians', etc. The Apadana is in approximate phi ratio to the Royal Palace which is amazing to consider as no royal building was just arbitrarily build anywhere. As the Palace and Throne of Darius I was correlated to the Pleiades, the Acropolis was correlated to the D&M Pentagon fortress of Mars. This structure was situated in the other mound to the south and elevated as well. The topography even suggests a 5-sided rampart where currently a castle fortress still stands from the rubble of the former glory in Daniel and Esther's day. The triangulation of these 2 mound and structure gives position to the area that is actually encloses a rectangular depression in the ground. This is suggested that it correlates to the Face of Mars. If one does superimpose the Cydonia Martian Motif, it does appear to match although it is elongated in the case of Susa. The configuration at Susa is at an approximate 45 degree rotation clockwise from that in Mars. What is also interesting to observe is that the reverse triangle fashioned by the motif to construe a hexagram has the ley-lines in the direction of Daniel's tomb and that of the Armory that when the Orion constellation outline is also superimpose from the reference points of the Royal Palace, corresponds to the Dragon Nebula of Orion. It is approximately at 33 degrees of a slope from the Orion Belt Star of Alnitak.

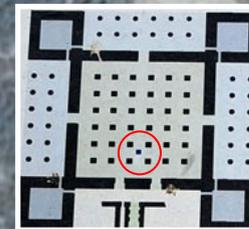

Nehemiah was the Cupbearer to Artaxerxes and with Ezra and Zerubbabel helped reconstruct the 2nd Temple.

APADANA

Esther approaching the King

There are 3 mounds in the core of the city that had the Apadana or Throne Hall. It was adjacent the 7-chamber Royal Palace that housed the various Royals, etc. This is where Esther was brought and lived. This is where the King wanted to show off Vashti the Queen but refused and order a national 'Royal Beauty Pageant' for her replacement. This is also however, where Haman lived as well and sought to destroy the Jews in one day, Purim. It was at this Throne Hall that Esther approached the King as the scepter was extended to her to save the Jews.

Jesus did say that there would be coming a day, and perhaps it has arrived that all nations or peoples would hate 'you', on account of Jesus. This means those Christians, or those that follow and seek to make a stance for Jesus in the Last Days. Just for wanting or believing in Jesus and His teachings. This is just as it was for Daniel and Esther in their days. It is this type of commitment and humility however that YHVH seeks; a heart after the Christ that loves Jesus first above all else. To this type of person, YHVH highly esteemed and revealed the secrets of Heaven as in the case of Daniel. He was given the interpretation of dreams of the world kings and emperors of this day. Daniel was made the head Astrology of the Royal Court even.
