FROM THE PRESIDENT

Yea, a new year and hopefully it will be better than the one we just tossed in the trash. We are hoping and praying that this COVID pandemic will be under control by early fall and we can all be together and share our stories of this nightmare with a smile.

Our hope is that each of you are weathering this and that your health and that of your family's is good. Cancelling last year's reunion was not an easy decision but under the circumstances, the best one that we could make.

We will continue to monitor conditions in the upcoming months to assure that we do not put our members or us in harm's way. We do want us to all be together but will postpone again if circumstances dictate it for safety and health reasons.

This year's reunion is set to resume in Dayton and will be the same as what we had planned for 2020. Our hotel will remain the same and will have the same room rate this year. We will still do our trip to the National Museum of the U.S. Air Force that I believe all will enjoy without tiring us out. We will be giving the Light Denim Long Sleeve Shirt with pocket and the 39th logo embroidered on the left front to members registered at this year's reunion.

The reunion starts on Wednesday, September 29 and ends Sunday October 3, 2021. Our headquarters will be the Crowne Plaza Dayton Downtown, 33 East 5th Street with easy access off I-70 and will have the option of arriving 3 days before and staying 3 days later if desired.

Now for a big "Blue Bull Welcome" to our new member. Welcome and we look forward to seeing you at one of our future reunions.

NEW MEMBER

FROM THE VICE PRESIDENT

OPERATION CHASE: (Cut Holes And Sink Em) was a United States Department of Defense program for the disposal of unwanted munitions at sea from May 1964 until the early 1970s. Munitions were loaded onto ships to be scuttled once they were at least 250 miles offshore. While most of the sinkings involved conventional weapons, four of them involved chemical weapons.

The disposal site for the chemical weapons was a three-mile area of the Atlantic Ocean between the coast of the state of Florida and the Bahamas. The Chase program was preceded by the United States Army disposal of 8000 tons of mustard and lewisite chemical warfare gas aboard the scuttled SS William C. Ralston in April 1958. These ships were sunk by having Explosive Ordnance Disposal (EOD) teams open seacocks on the ship after they arrived at the disposal site. The typical Liberty ship sank about three hours after the seacocks were opened. In August 1970, I was in charge of the Engineer detail of CHASE 10.

The following story is my weeklong, all-expense-paid train trip, courtesy of the U. S. Army.

My involvement started as a result of my being a platoon leader in the 522 Armored Engineer Company at Fort Knox. I volunteered to be in charge of the engineer detail on the chase train that would follow the trainload of chemical weapons from Lexington, Kentucky to the Marine base at Cherry Point, North Carolina. At Fort Knox, we loaded several flat cars with trucks loaded with decontamination equipment. We took apart the ramp from an AVLB to make it narrow enough to fit on a train car and loaded it with a rough terrain crane with a clam shell bucket. The plan was that if a container was compromised, the train would be broken at the crane car, the ramp would be used for the crane to get on the ground and it would dig a hole and put the leaking container in it and it would be filled with decontaminant. The trains traveled at 35 miles an hour and only stopped to change train crews. It took two days to reach Cherry Point. We were in pullman cars. The seats did not recline. The air conditioning was powered by the wheels, and at that slow speed, it did not cool very well. When we reached the end of the trip and were parked on a siding. The air conditioning did not work at all and we could not use the toilets since they dumped out onto the tracks. It was 100 degrees after a day of sitting around. The majority of the troops, except nine of us, were flown back to Fort Knox. We were to escort the equipment back.

This is Part 1 of a multi-part series. See future newsletters for more memories.

FROM THE SECRETARY

Greetings from the planet Earth. The New Year started off about as well as 2020 ended. Not sure why people in our neighborhood need to fire rounds to bring in the New Year but a visit from our local police department calmed everything down pretty quickly.

We sit back and reflect just how lucky we are. No Covid in our home, stayed quarantined for 10 months now and only trips outside for food or medicine. Best part is, we realized how fortunate we are to have each other even if we get cabin fever and get a little cranky. Thank goodness for Zoom and video chats!

Starting this year with so much hope. Hope COVID disappears, hope we stay healthy, hope our reunion will happen this Fall. Dayton is so ready for us, so please get your reservations in ASAP.

We proudly announce our granddaughter is now A1C with the Air Force. Had to watch live streaming and it was tough to figure out which short blonde airman wearing identical masks she was. The girl is already planning an overseas assignment and we are anxious to travel wherever she is for a visit.

Enough to say we are missing you all and counting the days till we meet in late Sept. Stay well, wear a mask, and wash your hands as well as social distance. We can beat this if we try. God bless our new President and we pledge our support for his efforts.

Respectfully,
Jim and Sandy Lewis, Secretary/Reunion Co-Chairs

Limited walking at these two sites.

The National Museum of the U.S. Air Force galleries present military aviation history, boasting more than 360 aerospace vehicles and missiles on display -- many rare and one-of-a-kind -- along with thousands of historical items and powerful sensory exhibits that bring history to life and connect the Wright brothers' legacy with today's stealth and precision technology.

BET ON THE WINNER

I am a gambler. O.K., my secret is out. Well, frankly it is not much of a secret and if the truth be known, I am not much of a gambler. Oh, I enjoy our monthly poker game with friends (until COVID-19 struck), and visiting a casino on a somewhat regular basis (again, until you know what hit us). We have a nice game room with an inlaid roulette table from Italy, eight slot machines, poker table, arcade games, etc. Say, perhaps I am more of a gambler than I thought -

Whatever the situation, I would have bet big money that, in my lifetime, I would never experience such a health situation as the world is suffering. But each of us can work to help push the odds of surviving this pandemic more in our favor. There are now options for a vaccine, along with respect for scientific protocol to minimize exposure.

Of course, due to the situation, we canceled last year's annual reunion – and wisely so. However, considering advancements in immunization, along with proper measures taken, the outlook for drastic improvement by the time of our 2021 gathering looks favorable. The reunion will be pretty much what was planned, and from a gambler's viewpoint, the “odds are good” we can pull it off. Details are included in this newsletter.

And it is in times such as these that we need to look forward to better days with family and friends. The 39th reunion in Dayton is a giant step in the right direction towards a return to normalcy. In that spirit I urge each of us to strongly consider attending the Dayton event. In addition to an outstanding planned schedule, reconnecting with fellow comrades will be a huge boost to one's wellbeing. Consider attendance as therapeutic – which it will be.

Looking forward to seeing everyone in Ohio!

FROM THE CHAPLAIN

I thought it time to quote another reflection and words of wisdom from our fallen brother George Wesley (Grub Worm) Thomas, since we all have been trying to traverse the heavy and dark unknown that the COVID Virus has put us all through for so long. I hope it will bring a little reassurance and solace to all. Enjoy.

“Don't Be Afraid!”

“When I'm afraid . . . I will trust the promises of God.

Psalm 56:3 Have you any idea how much it's costing you to fear things that never happen? Meteorologists say that a fog capable of covering half a square mile is made up of only one glass of water, divided into 60 million particles. But when it settles, it can obscure your entire vision! A little fear can do the same thing.

Why do almost half of us suffer from stress related disorders? Because instead of walking by faith, we think we're supposed to fly like jets on supercharged adrenaline – and we pay for it in terms of fear and anxiety.

It's so easy for fear to replace faith because they've got something in common – both challenge you to believe that which you can't see is about to happen. Fear will persuade you to run from something that's not after you at all.

Billy Sunday said, 'Fear knocked at my door. Faith answered. There was no one there.' But how do I overcome fear? By faith – and faith comes by hearing the Word of God (Romans 10:17). Begin to feed your faith on the Scriptures, and watch your fears starve to death!

Howard Chandler said, 'I spend the first 15 minutes of every morning filling my mind with God's Word; that way there's no room left for worry.' Good formula!

David says, 'When I am afraid, I will . . . trust the promises of God.' And you've got to do the same! Today, get into His Word and you'll discover that God's got everything under control.” The End
