Successful Hi-C Conference Held At Summerlea Church

The first conference of Hi-C Clubs in the Montreal Presbytery was held at Summerlea United Church, Lachine, last Saturday and was voted an overwhelming success by the 232 boys and girls in attendance. Theme of the conference, "Learning together in the Christian Fellowship", was introduced in the worship service which opened the proceedings. This was conducted by two young people from Valois United Church, Heather Edson and Wayne Musselman. Closing vesper services were conducted by Cedar Park Hi-C, led by Rev. Lindsay G. King, B.A., B.D. Keynote address was given by Reverend George C. Connolly, field secretary for Christian Education, Montreal, Ottawa and Bay of Quinte Conferences. He challenged the young people to greater participation in their club activities because "learning is the result of doing - not listening." When Hi-C Clubs invited speakers to their meetings, Mr. Connolly pointed out, it was to receive information, which is not the same thing as learning. Relating participation to the world scene, Mr. Connolly said: "All that is needed for the evil forces in the world to win, is for those who believe in the good and the right, to do nothing." After-dinner speaker was Ivan Livingstone of the Montreal Alouettes Football Club who told the boys and girls of some of his personal experiences. Sing-songs were led by Reverend Nettie I. J. Hoffman, assistant minister of St. James United Church and Reverend E. G. Tenneson, Minister of Rosemount First United Church. Mr. W. F. Osterman, physical director of Lachine High School, acted as "caller" during this evening's programme of square dances. Donald MacFarlane, president of Summerlea Hi-C was conference chairman. Organized by the boys and girls of Summerlea Hi-C, the conference was attended by delegates from 17 of the thirty-five churches in the Montreal Presbytery of the United Church of Canada.

Opening Of Pension Plan Bids Delayed

Dorval City Council has delayed opening of tenders for a pension plan for municipal employees to allow local agents of insurance companies to place their bids. Alderman Gilles Dore voted against the decision at last Wednesday's meeting of council on the grounds that the council, having decided on the method of asking for tenders could not now change. Two local agents had objected to Council calling tenders through

Pro Mayor Dore, Miss Dorval Lighting Contest Judges

"Pro Mayor Gilles Dore of Dorval, Chief of Police A. R. Noel, Miss Gail Allard (Miss Dorval of 1958) and William G. Milson, President of the Dorval Junior Chamber of Commerce will act as judges in the Dorval Christmas Lighting Contest" it was announced today by Mr. Frank Laroc, Chairman of the contest being sponsored by the Dorval Jaycees. It is anticipated that the response to this contest will be as good and as widespread in enthusiasm as has been experienced in other years. Final judging of lighted displays will not take place until Monday evening December 22nd. "No entry fees or entry forms are required to enter this contest" said

Mr. Barrie, "one stipulation only has been made, that being that winners of cash prizes in last year's contest are not eligible for each awards in this year's event." In connection with the judging, all participants reminded last night 6-30 p.m. December 19th to December 22nd. Prizes for the best overall decoration of home and grounds, as well as prizes in the four special categories will be awarded to the winners at their homes, and to heighten interest in the event, the Dorval Junior Chamber of Commerce is arranging for a small cavalcade complete with Christmas music to wind its way through the city with the judging committee. The purpose of this Christmas Lighting contest sponsored by Dorval Jaycees is to encourage residents of this city to decorate the outside of their homes with lights during the Christmas Season; to promote and foster a community spirit which can last throughout the year, making Dorval a better community in which to live; to give joy to our friends and neighbors and proclaim our acceptance of the spirit of Christmas. Let us all get together and make Dorval the "lightest" place on the Lakeshore.

By-Law Will Affect Taxi Rates

A by-law governing taxi fares in Dorval was given first reading at last Wednesday's meeting of City Council. Before it passes in its final form, however, taxi owners will be asked to form a committee of three to meet with council to discuss details. As it now stands, the by-law applies to all vehicles for public hire and governs not only the number of persons carried but also the qualifications of the driver. It stipulates that a tariff card must be carried by the driver, together with his identity. Tariff suggested in the by-law.

The children's corner in the newly-established quarters of the Dorval Civic Library is a busy place on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons as the small fry converge on the wide and wonderful variety of books to be found on the shelves. Adults, teenagers and children alike are urged to drop in and browse around - there is fact and fiction here to suit every taste. The Library is located at City Hall, 40 Martin Avenue and is open on Tuesday and Thursday from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m. for children and from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. and 7:30 to 9:00 p.m.

couraged and upset because the child shows great interest for one of these activities for a short time and then loses interest often before he has finished.

"He benefits from a wide experience, and later as an adult, he begins to select a particular activity on the basis of the experience and satisfaction that he himself derives from it."

Toylight Comes To Dorval

Approximately 700 children shouted a happy greeting to Santa Claus at Dorval Airport last Sunday afternoon when he flew in from Pole (N.Y.) with a plane-load of toys for distribution to orphanages throughout the city. Accompanied by three young ladies dressed as Santa's helpers, and two live reindeer, he created quite a stir as he debarked from the aircraft. While Santa and his helpers distributed candy to the children, and Christmas music filled the air, Kiwanis members busily unloaded the toys from the aircraft for storage until Christmas Day.

Monies to finance the project are derived entirely from the sale of

LET CHILDREN PICK OWN ACTIVITIES

The problem of what activities to let your children take part in, is a problem at times. Many mothers, naturally so, find it difficult to make up their minds whether to let Johnny or Judy play this sport or join that club.

Jocelyn Raymond, of the Institute of Child Study, explored this problem in a newspaper article recently.

"During their leisure time these children learn something about choosing their own goal and working toward them; they have the opportunity to decide how they will spend this time; they learn to use a variety of materials such as clay, paint, wood; they indulge in a variety of activities such as sports, cooking, collecting, music, dancing. Those children whose leisure time is spent chiefly in music lessons or dancing lessons which are adult-directed activities, are not going to have the same opportunity for learning self-direction.

"Children of this age (10 to 13) usually have acquired such basic skills as skating, swimming, throwing and catching a ball and are ready for team games such as hockey, basketball, volleyball, baseball. Although they need and look to adults for help in organizing team games for instruction often they will organize their own games. Since their friends are important at this age, a great deal of leisure time will be spent in group activities.

"At home a basketball hoop, hockey net, ping pong table give them opportunity to perfect their skills.

"Children of this age group enjoy individual sports such as badminton, tennis, riding target shooting, skating, golf. Through these they develop concentration and persistence and acquire skills that carry over into adult life.

"Pre-adolescents enjoy carpentry, painting, sewing, cooking, making models of planes and cars. These activities may be carried on with other children or alone. It is important for the child to learn that he can have fun by himself.

Dietician Sees Diet Cost Jump 168%

If people would only realize that nutritious food tastes good, they'd be healthier, prettier and happier, according to Nan Garvoek, who is retiring as dietitian-in-chief and executive director of the Montreal Diet Dispensary, a Red Feather agency.

In her capacity as head of what was Canada's first Diet Dispensary, vivacious Miss Garvoek has waged a 35-year-long campaign to convince people that it is possible to enjoy eating the food that does them good.

During her career Miss Garvoek has seen great progress in the field of nutrition. Dietitians, home economists and all who work in allied fields are better trained, she says. Foods, too, in many cases have been improved nutritionally. Enriched bread, vitaminized apple juice and powdered milk are three boons to health.

But, as far as the general public is concerned, resistance to knowledge of nutrition is still strong. "People like to eat," says Miss Garvoek, "but they seem to think the pleasure of eating will be taken away if they pay attention to nutrition."

Miss Garvoek has witnessed other changes too. When she started work at the Diet Dispensary in 1924 she had only one assistant and no other office help. Today the staff has grown to include three assistants, an office worker and a cook and this year Miss Garvoek saw her Red Feather service installed in new, more commodious quarters where the staff find it easier to handle the ever increasing volume of work.

And, of course, throughout her career Miss Garvoek has observed ever rising food prices. The cost of her minimum recommended diet has risen from 25 cents per person per day to the 1958 high of 67 cents - a 168% increase. No matter whether a meal is healthful eating or not, it costs more to-day.

Dorval Cribbage Club

The sixth play session was held at the home of J. Chevalier, Cote de Liesse Road, on December 1. Nightly scores were low with a count of 798 as top for C. Wolfenden and A. Brown. Sid Murrey and Jim Banks pegged 792 as runners up. Doubles standing to date are W. Patch, H. Heath D. Russell, and R. Blake.

In the race for singles trophies, J. Chevalier and T. Williamson are tied for top position with 722.

The jackpot was claimed by S. Dixon and R. Blake.

During the evening best birthday wishes were extended to Joe Chevalier. Club officials have arranged a special play night with St. Stephen Cribbage Club for a friendly match on January 15th in their club rooms. Another coming event will be an evening with turkeys for prizes.

The seventh club date is December 15th at 104 St. Louis Avenue Dorval.

W.A. Makes Up Gift Hampers

On Wednesday December 10th, Group 8 of Strathmore United Church W.A. held a successful "Share with Others" Programme. Mrs. Stuart Elkins, of Queen Mary Road United Church presented the Christmas Story with Flannelgraph. Mrs. Grace Baines was the soloist and Mrs. Grace

Mitchell the accompanist. The special guests of the evening were Pine Beach Group No. 1. These groups made up "White Gift Hampers" for a needy family.

Mrs. Vera Sloan was the Chairman and Mrs. Anne Wright, the programme convenor.

Twilight Christmas Music

On Sunday, December 21st, at 4 P.M. the senior and junior choirs of Strathmore United Church will present a special service of Christmas Music.

The program will consist of an hour of carols, anthems and solos, concluding with a portion of Handel's Messiah. The soprano solo parts in the latter section of the program will be sung by Rita Paterson.

The choir is under the direction of Grace Mitchell, A.T.C.M., L.M.U.S.

Traffic Laws - A Forthright Stand

Warning to motorists breaking Dorval's traffic laws: don't ask Mayor John Pratt, MP, or any of the Aldermen to 'fix' tickets!

The matter came to a head last week when a motorist, stopped for driving at 90 miles per hour near the traffic circle, wrote to the mayor asking to have his ticket fixed.

Mayor Pratt points out that, while the city is not out to make money at the expense of motorists, the law must be obeyed. If the motorists believe they are being unduly punished, the court is the arbiter and the proper place to settle the matter.

Neither he nor any member of his council have any intention of fixing tickets nor intervening with the due process of the law, and anyone infringing traffic laws, must suffer the consequences.

Apparently this is not the first time that either the Mayor or member of the council have been asked to assist traffic offenders. "All such applicants have been, and will continue to be given the same answer - a firm and unequivocal 'no'," said a council spokesman.

Christmas Has No Boundaries

According to a recent address given by Lt. Col. S.C. Holland, President of the Canadian Mental Health Association, mental illness is the number one health problem in Canada. Apparently there are more cases of mental illness than cancer, heart disease, polio and other combined.

As one method of bringing a little happiness into the lives of those who are confined in mental institutions, the Association sponsors a Christmas Gift Campaign for the Forgotten Mental Patients.

Some of these Col. Holland points out, are children who have been afflicted with mental illness since they were born; some are adults men and women, fathers and mothers - who have by accident or for a number of years; some are old people who are spending the rest of their lives alone without anyone to visit them; some are people who have been isolated from society through no fault of their own and eventually are forgotten.

The secondary purpose of the campaign is to interest the public in the fight against mental illness. The campaign serves to the mentally ill and convincing them that mental illness is not a disease to be ashamed of and to be spoken of only in whispers, but one that, in many cases, can be cured.

Throughout the year, a large number of worthwhile appeals are brought before the public. Perhaps this one and those dealing with retarded and crippled children have a special claim on our hearts at the Christmas Season because it involves the act of giving to those less fortunate and brings about a deeper appreciation of the blessing of mental and physical well-being that most of us tend to take for granted.

Lions Xmas Cake Sale

An example of what your Lions Club can accomplish with the aid of the public's generous support was the Christmas party given to the entire personnel of the W.M.S. Children's House on St. Antoine Street, Lachine.

Some 40 round-eyed youngsters and their supervisors, led by Mrs.

Phillips, superintendent of the house, were driven by the Lions to Miss Montreal restaurant at Dorval for dinner, refreshments, and gifts galore.

A very festive occasion was climaxed by Christmas carols sung by the youngsters and to the great surprise of the latter, during the singing of "Santa Claus is coming to town" the old gentleman actually appeared on the scene, dealing out presents to one and all.

The Lion members really get as much fun out of these occasions as the children and it is to make more such efforts possible that they request the support of Lakeshore residents.

Lions Christmas Cakes have been distributed in the Montreal area for a number of years and many people

ASK THESE FOUR QUESTIONS WHEN YOU CHOOSE AN INSULATION FOR YOUR HOME!

- 1 Is it 100% efficient... summer and winter?

- 4 Will it stay free of rot and mildew?

Only with Fiberglas® can you give a confident 'yes' to the most important questions you can ask about a home insulation. For the fine, foamy fibres of glass encase age and deterioration in any way. "They say the pen is mightier than the sword, but there's one thing you've got to say for the sword. It won't leak out all over your shirt pocket."

Sessue Hayakawa, who at 72 is resuming his acting career (following his success in the role of Colonel Saito in The Bridge on the River Kwai), says: "I stopped counting my age after 45. I feel the same now as I did then." Sessue says he now enjoys small dinners rather than the huge parties he used to throw in the 1920's. "In my mature wisdom, I have learned that to enjoy a friend over a cup of tea is more enjoyable than to decipher the babble of many voices."

Jackie Gleason says: "When an actor starts out, the most attractive thing is that everyone in the world recognize him. Then, when he becomes a star, he finds out the most priceless thing is anonymity."

DID YOU KNOW? Playhouse 90 plans to bring to TV Ernest Hemingway's famous novel, For Whom The Bell Tolls. It will be a 3-hour, two-part show--the first ever tackled by TV--and is scheduled for showing on March 5 and 12. Actress Judith Anderson surprised everyone by doing a charleston on The Arthur Murray Party last week. . . . Gisele MacKenzie, who is slated for a Broadway musical early in 1959, is Jack Benny's TV guest on December 14. . . . Helen Hayes stars in One Red Rose For Christmas on The United States Steel Hour, December 17. She plays the director of a Catholic home for girls.

I HEAR FROM ENGLAND, J. Arthur Rank is trying to promote a romance between actress Ann Haywood and German star Horst Buchholz. A Rank press agent says he overheard Horst saying: "We were filming Tiger Bay at Cardiff, between praying for it not to rain." And Miss Heywood supposedly replied: "That's funny--for Floods of Fear we wanted all the water we could get, but it simply refused to rain." . . . British comedian Terry Thomas has formed a company to produce travel films. He has completed one, filmed in Italy, and is trying to get Rossano Brazzi to do the commentary. . . . Most of the movie, Floods of Fear, which is about a disastrous flood in the United States, is being filmed indoors in a huge tank 180 feet long, 100 feet wide and 12 feet deep. . . . The modern-day Santa Claus excites the curiosity of the children at the Dorval Gardens Shopping Centre as he holds court inside a 20th century rocket stationed at one corner of the parking lot. The big question seems to be - where's Rudolph? A Photographics Photo assistance. "There are a number of groups and clubs which for many years have bought and packed presents for us," Miss Barnstead said. "These clubs buy the gifts and wrap them and label them with the details of age, sex and size. We act as a clearing house and try our best to match the gift to the receiver."

Family Welfare Association social workers, who plan as carefully for the Christmas happiness of the great family under their care as do the mothers of more fortunate private families, feel that for certain families and certain individuals a Christmas gift of cash has many advantages. A gift of money enables the mother of a needy family to go to the stores and personally select the Christmas food for her family. It also enables parents to use their discretion when buying present for their children. "The mother is usually the person who knows best whether a child wants Santa Claus to bring skates, a doll or a new sweater," Miss Barnstead explains. She adds that, if a family receives cash instead of presents, the children in the family can also be given a small amount of money for buying gifts. "We want our children to learn the joy of giving as well as receiving. The agency feels that it is important too that, wherever possible, children feel that it is their parents who make the joy of Christmas possible."

For old age pensioners a gift of cash is particularly helpful. "With some ready Christmas cash the man or woman living alone can forget the careful budgeting necessary to stretch an old age pension through a month," the Family Welfare executive explains. "He or she can gratify some personal wish or, surprisingly often, will use the Christmas money to give a little pleasure to one who has been kind to him."

Besides the gifts of cash, presents of food hampers and toys that the Agency will provide this year, families will also receive a special extra present. The Brownie pack of St. Mathias Church has wrapped in gay packages some 400 pounds of candy. Donated by two candy manufacturers, the sweets will be handed out as an extra touch for the Christmas table.

Red Feather Helps Needy At Christmas

Elnor Barnstead, Executive Director of the Family Welfare Association, says that this Christmas

It's wonderful when Santa Claus delivers a present - but it's even better when he brings just what was really wanted. more of the children under this Red Feather agency's care will find that Santa Claus answers their requests exactly. This results from an increasing trend on the part of in-groups to give the agency gifts of cash rather than hampers and toys for its needy families. Miss Barnstead said that the trend has been increasingly in evidence over the last ten years and that last year one 30 clubs and organizations gave their gifts in this manner.

Miss Barnstead emphasizes that the Family Welfare Association relies also on the many gifts of toys and good hampers it receives each year to make Christmas a reality for the almost 900 families needing

DORVAL Sports on Parade

BY GABY FILIATRALT

On October 2nd more than two months ago, we published in this column a motion passed at a Dorval Recreation Association meeting which read as follows: The Dorval Recreation Association will establish a separate committee to form a city-wide winter sports program which will embrace hockey leagues and other winter activities. Funds for the undertaking to be raised by requesting donations from all of our Community Associations and by asking for an operational fee from participating families."

Meetings followed where sports and community representatives were invited to discuss the project. Many problems had to be resolved. Some were settled at the time while a few remain to be ironed out in the near future. The first part of the motion above mentioned dealt with the organization of hockey on a city-wide basis to provide every boy with the opportunity to play hockey on a team. Nearly 500 boys have already registered their names in the five districts and the City of Dorval will have its own section affiliated with the Quebec Minor Hockey Association. Continued cooperation from every citizen and some luck, weather-wise, will assure our children of one of the best winters in hockey.

There shouldn't be any doubt on the matter of cooperation. With our children's welfare at stake, everyone will want to do everything possible to help. The Dorval Recreation Association Hockey Committee under the direction of John C. Anderson, is formed of what we may call experts in hockey organization. Bill Barkas, Len Dullege, Pete Read, Al Brown and Pete Stefank are well known hockey organizers, like by everyone who has had dealings with them. All have many years of experience behind them and their previous successes were not lucky ones but due primarily to their knowledge, with some hard work thrown in. Things will run smoothly under their direction.

We also need some luck, weather-wise. Two months of hard work, planning, and organizing, plus the best direction possible will not be enough if we don't get hockey weather. We sincerely hope that the weather will cooperate so as to not disappoint anybody, the children especially. Whatever happens due to the weather the Dorval Recreation Association cannot be blamed for it. Their first goal was to organize hockey on a City-wide basis and this they have achieved.

The City council has promised full cooperation in the maintenance of the hockey rinks and to improve lightning system where needed. Additional quarters are to be provided for Riverside Park.

Official Q. M. H. A. registration cards are on their way to the district supervisors and teams will soon be formed, so boys keep posted on hockey news. It's only a matter of weeks now and you will be able to show what you can do.

The schedules are being drawn up and with the beginning of the season set for Saturday, December the 27th, there isn't much time left. We hope that all rinks will be ready before hand, so that coaches will have a chance to make a fair choice of players. They must see the boys in action two or three times before making up their minds, and the many new boys deserve a fair try-out.

The Dorval Recreation Association Hockey Funds campaign is underway and reports are slowly coming in. A few very generous donations have already reached the D. R. A. headquarters. Everyone is invited to subscribe and help make this worthwhile campaign a real success.

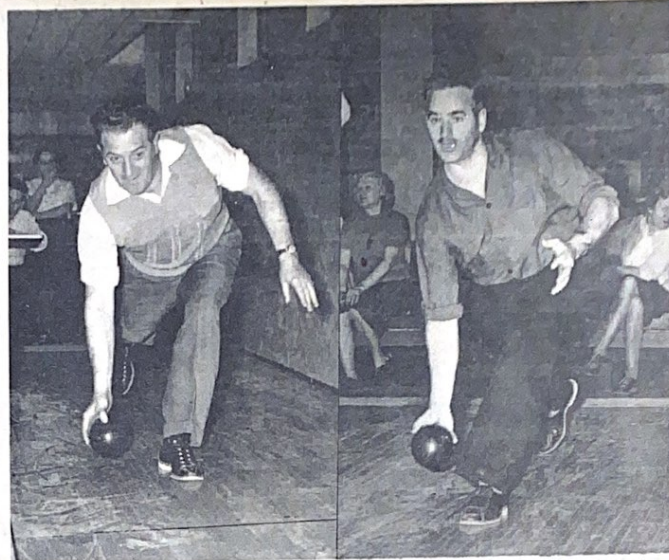

From Bill Barkas, the Strathmore district supervisor, comes very good news. Bill sees a great season in the making and is very pleased with his coaching staff, which according to Bill is the best on the Lakeshore. Gerry Quemel and Marcel Morissette will combine their knowledge to form one of the most powerful Pee-Wee teams. Pierre Pinet will be in charge of the Bantams and Syd Patterson will coach the Midgets. The above three teams play in the Dorval Section of the Q. M. H. A. Completing the hockey picture in Strathmore, a four-team Mosquito House League will be formed under the direction of Lefty Hackert, and Jack Reichelt will head a six-team Pee-Wee House League. Coaches for the two house leagues will be named later. Nepeuse Park rink is ready and everyone is waiting for favorable weather to get some ice and get the first practices going.

Officers of the Dorval East district are not very pleased that the boards are not up yet for the rink at Riverside Park. Violet Crescent Park was recommended many weeks ago as the best place for the district, but the Riverside Park was chosen by the City officials for the reason that ground at Violet Crescent was not ready to take a hockey rink. A skating rink has been erected there, as in the past years.

The erection of the rink at Riverside Park was decided in mid-November but to far nothing as been done except the digging of a few holes for the lighting system poles. Many inches of snow cover the ground and nobody seems to know when the boards will be erected. With the first games scheduled for December 27th, and only three weeks left to form the teams and still no rink it will develop into quite a problem if the necessary work is delayed any longer.

Pete Read is still hoping to get good juvenile hockey players interested in playing for Dorval this coming winter. All boys of juvenile age could give their names by phoning Pete at Me. 1-1474. Boys, here's your chance, to get what you have been looking for for a long time. "We are not ready to believe that our juveniles have already lost all interest in hockey and that it will be impossible to get a team going. It might be true that nothing much has been done in the past but things are looking better.

Rules of the Q. M. H. A. forbid boarding at all times and permits body-checking only in the defensive zones and to the player carrying the puck. These two rules are most important in minor hockey and the referees should see that all players observe them. High-sticking is also very dangerous and practically all accidents in minor hockey are due to infractions of one of the above rules.

Mel Ratcliffe of the Cloverdale League which bowls Monday nights at 7:30, shoots for a strike as his team mates look on in the background. On the right, B. M. Palmer, a member of the Riverside League which bowls on Friday nights at 7:30 p. m., also lines up for a perfect delivery during the regular league competition. Alleys are located at the Parish Recreation Centre on Lakeshore Drive near Martin Avenue in Dorval.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Use your silver polish to remove stains on the bottom of your iron. Rub on a small amount, then wipe off with a damp cloth.

Varnish, lacquer, or shellac should not be used to protect linoleum. Wax provides the best protection. Experts recommend a water-base self-polishing wax because it washes off easily.

Split a lemon half-way through lengthwise before cutting it into rounds. It saves time as well as cut fingers when preparing lemon slices for iced tea.

Wrap sprinkled laundry loosely in a plastic sheet or bag. This helps distribute moisture evenly and prevents clothes from drying.

A muffin tin makes a nice tray for outdoor picnics. Place a paper cup in each compartment and fill with onion, mustard, relish, and the like.

Baking dishes will come clean more easily if they are soaked in hot water and suds while still warm from the oven. Use a stiff brush on them when doing the dishes.

Fill empty cold drink bottles with lemonade and drinks made from flavored beverage powders. Place the bottles in the refrigerator and let the youngsters help themselves when they're thirsty.

A bit of spirits of camphor dabbed on lightly with cotton will clean soiled playing cards. Wipe the cards after applying.

When covering shelves with paper or oilcloth, first give the shelves a coating of wax. The wax prevents the covering from sticking to the shelves.

On Reading Profitably

Our printing presses are devouring a great tonnage of paper, and authors are covering it with words telling all that has ever been thought, felt, seen, experienced, discovered and imagined. Never before has so much information, guidance and entertainment been so readily available to everyone. Our problem is to make the best use individually of what is printed.

There are many different motives for reading. We may seek knowledge, relaxation, or comfort, background, inspiration, or something that will enable us to compose all these into a way of life. In earlier days mankind flourished with merely barbaric flashes of thought, but in this period of civilization we need a co-ordinating philosophy built upon and making use of all the experiences of the past.

Books are friends.
Perhaps the highest use of books is not as sources of information about nations, people, or foreign lands, but as friends. Reading is one of the most effective means of getting away from disturbing and unalterable circumstances. Intimate association with noble works, literary, philippic, artistic, is a promoter of thought, a refuge from almost all the miseries of life.

Books are good for us because they tend to shake us up. Our environment is confusing because it is made up of a tangle of complicated notions, in the midst of which individuals are inclined to sit apathetically.

What we find in books can make us look again at things we have taken for granted, and question them; it can arouse us to appreciate once more the ideas and ideals that are being stifled under the lava flow of technical marvels. If a book moves us to thought, even to angry thought, the chances are that it is doing us a good turn.

Lastly in this brief tabulation of the value of reading, consider the person who seeks ability in self-expression. The woman who wishes to excel in conversation and the man who must make his letters and orders clear; both these need to read wisely.

A business man's reading.

The business man who never, in spite of good resolutions, gets around to reading books that are not directly associated with his trade, is depriving himself of the habits, the skills, the understanding, and the increased freedom of thought which a well-balanced pattern of reading would give him.

Reading in technical books, learned journals and trade magazines is necessary according to a man's way of making a living, but this reading should not be the end. A person who has to fit his life into a groove in his daily work may become a unique individual in his reading. He may have a dual life: as a business man among scholars and as a scholar among business men.

A skilled artisan, extremely wise in matters of his own art, is cheating himself of the greatness in life that might be his if he reads nothing else but technical books and newspapers.

Search for knowledge
The person who reads wisely and often finds that he has the enormous advantage of knowing more about his subject than others do. Knowledge builds self-confidence and self-reliance.

Books will provide us with the material information we can use to answer vital questions. When we are puzzled as to why human beings behave as they do we cannot find the answer in our surroundings but in the long perspective of history.

A person reading well-selected books becomes a denizen of all nations, a contemporary of all ages. In his books he meets all kinds of people, the wisest, the wittiest and the tenderest.

Choosing books
How are we to go about selecting the books to read? Shall we use the time-honoured formula: chose the books you would like to have with you if you were wrecked on a desert island? Shall we read Sir John Lubbock's hundred best books, or the other hundreds selected by his imitators?
Selection of books to read is highly personal. Whatever the learned may say in praise of a book, it is not for you unless you can get interested in it. And literature suited to desolate islands may not be the thing at all for reading on a bus or train or airplane, or at a lunch counter.

One guide can be stated without equivocation: If you want to be vitalized into the power of thinking, real thoughts; if you wish to be qualified to debate the issues of the day; then resolutely leave out whatever is not of the best. To spend time on naughty narratives in a world that holds Hugo and Dickens and Tynbee, Shelley and Shakespeare and Churchill, is like being told you may have your choice of all the diamonds in Tiffany's, and then walking out with a bit of broken glass. Or, as Ruskin put it: "Will you go and gossip with your housemaid or your stableboy, when you may talk with queens and kings?"

A pattern of reading
Every good book leads, if you let it have its way, to another book. The trails in bookland cross and recross. When you lay down Wells' Outline of History or Durant's Story of Philosophy after reading the last page you are, like a graduating university scholar, at "commencement." These two books, typical of many, point the way to enough reading to keep a reader busy for the rest of his life.

Another way to start is by selecting four departments of reading, such as history, poetry, philosophy and science. Get a book that appeals to you in each department, and read according to your mood. Change from one to another: we are told that Oliver Wendell Holmes laughed heartily at a musical comedy for half an hour, and then, tired of laughing, read the Thoughts of Marcus Aurelius.

Every department of literature has its own contribution to make to our welfare and happiness. Poetry sets down in winged words the things we think and feel but cannot say. When you read poetry you are broadening your facility in the use of language and increasing your ability to say things in different and more attractive ways.

Prose fills more books, and it is the common way of communicating ideas. We lose something if

Assessment In Dorval Jumps For 1959

A break down of private dwellings showing the middle class nature of the city has been issued by Dorval City Council.

Of the 4,022 residences, 1,521 or 38 per cent are assessed at below $10,000; 1,860, or 46 per cent, are assessed at between $10-15,000, 365, or 9 per cent, at $15-20,000, and 276 (7 per cent) at over $20,000. In this latter group there are 76 homes in the $100,000 and-up category. Assessment is based on about 80 per cent of market value.

Overall residential assessment works out to approximately 47 per cent of the City's 1959 roll. Industrial assessment, comprising 31 per cent of the total figure, represents an increase of 17 per cent over the 1958 figure.

TWO MORE QUEEN SCOUTS NAMED IN ST. MARK'S TROOP

On Wednesday evening last week, St. Mark's Scouts acted as hosts to the Westmount Park Emmanuel Sea Scout Troop and Sea Scoutmaster James Stewart.

Highlight of the occasion was the presentation of Queen Scout badges - scouting's highest honor - by District Commissioner E. W. Brayden to Patrol Leader Derek Hood and Troop Leader Ian Belton, both of St. Mark's.

Mr. R. Corcoran, Sea Scout Commissioner, was also present to award Brian Hughes and Ronald Mison with their Second Class Badges and Derek Hood with his Ambulance Man Badge.

During the evening's ceremonies, Mr. Stewart invested two Tenderfoot Scouts in his own troop, while Sea Scoutmaster G. C. Coffin of St. Mark's invested Lloyd Williams in the Dorval group.

It was announced that Richard Mash, Senior Sixer, and Peter Saunders, a Sixer from the Dorval Cub Pack would join St. Mark's Sea Scouts at a going-up ceremony on Friday.

A skit presented by the Westmount Troop rounded out an enjoyable get-together, and this was followed by refreshments which were arranged for by the St. Mark's Troop.

Gift Campaign Organized

December brings the opening of the Christmas Gift Campaign for the Forgotten Mental Patient sponsored by the Canadian Mental Health Association. It is hoped that the campaign will help to remind the community of the importance of remembering the mental patient, not only at Christmas time with a Christmas gift, but also throughout the year. For many mental patients who stand a chance of a return to normal life as useful citizens, it is this awareness of acceptance or rejection by society which will be the balancing factor in their recovery.

Target of this year's Quebec Division campaign is to obtain 11,000 Christmas Gifts to be distributed to the forgotten mental patients. Last year, the Quebec Division with its successful Christmas Campaign, set the pace for the rest of Canada. As a result, this year, similar campaigns are being conducted in eight other provinces in Canada. It is estimated that more than 100,000 citizens will take part in bringing some happiness to the forgotten mental patients at Christmas.

Since Canada's most serious health problem is mental illness, there is a need to focus public attention on mental illness. This national project carried out by the Canadian Mental Health Association, represents quite a unique approach in helping to create an awareness on the part of the Canadian public.

Out of this growing awareness, surely some of the taboos about

we do not go back to some of its earlier forms, like letters and essays, for both interest and entertainment. Essays are important sources of idea-starters, whether they are gentle, witty and seductive, or rude and quarrelsome. The Letters of Lady Mary Montagu have contributed quotable quotes to our language, as Cicero's Letters have given us priceless matches of philosophy still usable. Let's get started.

In his latest book, recently published, Robert R. Updegraff says this: "In spite of our protestations that we are 'too busy' to do any serious reading, we might as well honestly admit that it is... either because we do not organize our time to fit in reading, or that we do not utilize our odd hours."

We do not need to sit down with a book for two or three hours in order to read effectively. Norman Vincent Peale tells us in one of his essays about a man who read all of Gibbon's The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire in the intervals of waiting for his wife to dress for dinner.

The average reader can read an average book at the rate of 300 words a minute. That means 4,500 words in quarter of an hour, or 1,642,500 words in a year. If you spend just fifteen minutes a day, you can read twenty average-length books between January 1st and December 31st.

Sir William Osler, busy man as he was, set his fifteen minutes reading time just before going to sleep. If bedtime was set for 11 o'clock, he read from 11 to 11:15; if research kept him up until 2 a.m., he read from 2 to 2:15. Over his very long lifetime, Osler never broke this rule.

There is no other occupation which you can more easily take up at any moment, for any period, and more easily put aside when other duties press upon you. Tudor court ladies wore little jewelled books; today's reading woman carries a small book in her purse; men use their pockets on their briefcases. Out come these books during periods of waiting - waiting for meals, buses, trains, hair cuts, telephone calls, dates, performances to begin - or just waiting for something to happen.

There is no finality. One is never at the end of reading. What we know is still infinitely less than all that still remains unknown. We continue to welcome information and ideas, always wondering as we climb successive hills "What lies beyond?"

Edison said towards the end of his fruitful life that he had no conclusions to give: "I am just learning about things myself." Confucius remained tireless in his search after knowledge and learning. Socrates was famed for wisdom not because he was omniscient but because he realized at the age of seventy that he still knew nothing.

Reading is not an exercise or an act of penance, but something that holds for us the assurance of a better way of life. There are no formal educational requirements for admission to the reading elite. You just start reading; reserve the time necessary, and go on from book to book.

Recreation Program Reviewed

The Lakeshore Welfare Service has completed year-end reports about 1958 playgrounds to Lakeshore cities and towns, reports George Senyk, Director of Recreation. Three part-time and eighteen full-time playlots and playgrounds were operated by the agency, from Baie d'Urfee in the west to Dorval in the east, under the guidance of a staff of twenty nine supervisors and playleaders, and thirteen volunteers.

Total registration for all activities was 2700 children between the ages of 6 and 14. An attendance of over 100,000 was recorded at planned or supervised activities. Not counted was the casual visitor who did not register but came only to relax and enjoy himself by watching, talking or just plain sitting. The registration ranged from 40 for the tiniest part-time playlot to nearly 300 for the largest playfield, with attendance from 600 at the former to 17,400 for the latter. This is considered surprisingly good in view of the fact that poor weather and holidays stopped playground operation for approximately 25% of the time.

An excellent safety record was set up. No serious accidents of any kind were reported to the Director, outside of the usual quota of childhood scrapes and bruises. The staff threw themselves wholeheartedly into the jobs and gave excellent supervision and leadership. All but seven of them were Lakeshore residents. If any replacements will be needed next summer, Mr. Senyk hopes that these may all be found from amongst Lakeshore young people.

The most popular activities were games and sports, and the use of playground apparatus such as swings and sandboxes. Following closely in popularity were arts and crafts, off-playground trips and hikes and special events. The highlights of these were the craft competitions, the British Empire Games, beach trips, and the Red Feather penny fairs. Other programs included story-telling, sing-songs, table games, dancing and dramatics. The learn-to-swim campaign saw almost 240 certificates of different levels of progress given to participants. The wide range of activities offered gave just about every child a chance to take part in some recreation of his own liking.

Recommendations have been made to the various committees in hopes that more playground service and even better programs will be available to young Lakeshore citizens next year. The Director of Recreation will be contacting and recruiting staff in the near future and making plans for the pre-summer training session.

Thread, is "an explanation of many things that have happened in the past two years."

TV TIDBITS: Columbia Broadcasting System tells me these fascinating (?) facts about some of their performers:

"Desi Arnaz fled the Cuban revolution in Santiago at the age of 16. His father, a congressman, was imprisoned but mother and son eventually managed to secure his release."

"Warner Anderson of The Lineup holds a patent on a reusable concrete form which has been implemented on some of the largest construction projects in California."

"Dennis Weaver, who plays Chester on Gunsmoke, was an outstanding football and track star at college. He represented his alma mater, Oklahoma University, in the decathlon competition during the 1948 Olympic tryouts."
