THE ONTARIO YEARS 1911–1917. Preface by Jonathan F. Vance. The years following L.M. Montgomery's departure from Prince Edward Island were among the most eventful of her life. She travelled in England and Scotland on her honeymoon; she began her new role of minister's wife in Leaskdale, Ontario; she gave birth three times; and, in August 1914, she watched Canada go to war. Published for the first time ever is the full record from 1911 to 1917, including all of Montgomery's original photographs, many of which have never been published. The hundreds of annotations, completely new and exclusive to this edition, incorporate the most up-to-date historical thinking. A new preface by historian Jonathan F. Vance is lively and insightful. Paperback, 368 pp., $29.95. ISBN-13: 978-1-77244-022-5.

THE ONTARIO YEARS 1918–1921. Introduction by Elizabeth Rollins Epperly. "This is the journal of a consummate story teller. War, death, madness, fury, despair, sheer grit, laughter, love, and exquisitely realized beauty and joy: all are rendered through the eye and 'I' of an artist for whom her journal was not so much a place as an act of engaging—a companioning of and questioning of herself. I suggest that this volume, covering 1918 to 1921, is one of the most important works in Montgomery's entire writing career. Here we see her personal world shattered, and we see her consciously remaking it." —Elizabeth Rollins Epperly. Paperback, 396 pp., $29.95. ISBN-13: 978-1-77244-066-9.

THE ONTARIO YEARS 1922–1925. L.M. Montgomery's last four years in Leaskdale were marked by a series of unpredictable, and often unmanageable, events. Her account of these events, as they often twisted in increasingly unexpected directions, makes for spellbinding reading. Like the other entries in the series, this volume includes the hundreds of photographs that Montgomery inserted in the handwritten journals. Paperback, 468 pp., $39.95. ISBN-13: 978-1-77244-132-1.

THE ONTARIO YEARS 1926–1929. Montgomery's relocation in 1926 to Norval, Ontario, a village of striking natural beauty located on the Credit River, furnished her life with a bright new texture. Her commentary on the transformation of the world around her is infused with characteristic wit and insight. As a social history of a rapidly changing Canada, Montgomery's journals—presented here complete and unexpurgated for the first time—offer fascinating insights. Paperback, 344 pp., $29.95. ISBN-13: 978-1-77244-080-5.

ALSO AVAILABLE! THE DIARY OF CHARLES MACNEILL, FARMER, 1892–1896. Commentary by L.M. Montgomery. In her handwritten journal of 1925, Montgomery transcribes the entire diary of PEI farmer Charles Macneill. "I don't think I ever read anything quite so delicious in my life," she later wrote. Published for the first time is the full diary that she found so compelling, an atmospheric depiction of the rural Island setting found in her novels. Paperback, 2018, 114 pp., $19.95. ISBN 978-1-77244-138-3.
