JULY DINNER MEETING NOTICE

Program: Civil Engineering: An Important Part of our Sustainable Future
By: Manfred Zapka, PhD, P.E., ENV SP, LEED-AP, CEM, CEA
Principal, Sustainable Design & Consulting LLC
Chair of the ASCE Hawaii Section Sustainability Committee

Civil engineers need to be prepared for the extraordinary changes taking place under which the projects they plan, design and construct are expected to operate. Civil engineers will be at the forefront of managing changes of how the world will be responsibly using our limited and critical resources and averting further degradation of ecological systems. The presentation will introduce some important basic topics of sustainable engineering and infrastructure. The talk will provide guidance on how civil engineers can prepare themselves to stay well-informed and competitive in the face of increasingly demand for sustainable project delivery. The new sustainable infrastructure rating system ENVISION™ will be briefly discussed.
