ASCENSION OF THE LORD

June 1, 2014

REFLECTION

By Ashley Lott (7th Grade)

Today's readings have a theme of prayer and suffering. In the first reading after witnessing the ascension of Jesus into heaven , the disciple returned to Jerusalem, went to the upper room and begin to pray for the coming of the Holy Spirit. In the Gospel, Jesus prays for those who been given to Him. These two instances show us that it is important to pray. Surely if Jesus prayed and His disciples prayed, then we must learn to pray and ask God for his blessings and protection.

The first reading illustrates the importance of praying for our future. Just as the disciples prayed for what was to come, then we too must do the same. We must include those things that we are hoping will happen in our lives. Whatever we are waiting for, we should pray until it comes.

The Gospel reading teaches us that we should pray for others as well as ourselves. Just as Jesus prayed for those He would leave behind in the world then we too must pray for others in this world. Our prayers should not only be about what we want or need but should include the wants and needs of others too.in Jesus 'prayer He says, "I glorified you on earth by accomplishing the work that you gave me to do. Now glorify me, Father, with you" (John 17: 4-5). This passage shows us that as long as we are doing the Lord's work and glorying Him, then it is okay for us to ask God to glorify us by blessing us with those things that are for our glory. Our requests are not selfish as long as they are for the greater glory of God.

Finally, we learn from today's second reading that suffering is not a bad thing when we suffer for God. I think about how those who do not understand the Catholic faith often cause me to suffer by asking negative questions about our religion. They ask questions like "Do you pray to statues?" or "Are Catholics Christians?" I get so tired of their questions. Sometimes I get angry, but I have learned from this reading to suffer joyfully, because I suffer as a Christian, I suffer for my faith, I suffer for God.

The Great Commission

Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age." Matthew 28:19-20 (NIV)

KNOW YOUR FAITH

The Body and Blood of Jesus Christ

By Deacon Ronnie Hathorne

As many of you know I am a convert to the Catholic Church. So, I am periodically asked what initially drew me to the Church. Without question, I was initially drawn by the reverence that I observed within the Church, before, during and after Mass. Therefore , I would like to take this opportunity to share the appropriate signs of reverence with respect to the Body and Blood of Jesus Christ.

The Body and Blood of Jesus Christ are treated with the greatest reverence, both during and after the celebration of the Eucharist. For example, the tabernacle in which the consecrated bread is reserved is placed in some part of the Church, which is distinguished, conspicuous, beautifully decorated , and suitable for prayers. As a result, the tabernacle in St. Joseph is located directly behind the altar. So, in accordance with the tradition of the Latin Church, one should genuflect in the presence of the tabernacle containing the reserved sacrament.

This is why when entering and upon leaving the Church, we face the tabernacle where Jesus is reposed and genuflect. Now, those prohibited by poor health may bow to the tabernacle as a sign of reverence. We also genuflect when passing in front of the tabernacle and in front of the altar when the Body and Blood of Christ remain on it. And in the Eastern Catholic Churches, the traditional practice is to make the sign of the cross and bow profoundly. Importantly, the liturgical gestures from both traditions reflect reverence, respect and adoration.

Now, in view of the preceding, it is very appropriate for parishioners to greet each other in the gathering space of the Church, which is the vestibule. But, it is not appropriate to speak in loud or boisterous tones in the body of the Church or the nave, because as Catholics, we believe that Christ is present in the tabernacle.

In addition, the Church requires everyone to fast before receiving the Body and Blood of Christ, as a sign of reverence and recollection (unless illness prevents one from doing so). In the Latin Church, one must generally fast for at least one hour, and members of the Eastern Catholic Churches must follow the practice established by their own Church.

The Church teaches that the Eucharist is the source and summit of the Catholic Church. Therefore, I pray that we will continue to give the Holy Eucharist proper reverence and devotion, before during and after Mass. Amen!!!
