A maid-en fair to see, The pearl of min-strel-sy, A bud of blush-ing beau-ty; For whom proud no-bles sigh, And with each oth-er vie To do her me-nial's hopeless passion torn, And poor beyond de-ny-ing, Has dared for her to pine, At

Would God I were the tender apple blossom that floats and falls from off the twisted bough to lie and faint with in your silk-en blossom with in your silk-en blossom, as that does now. Or would I were a little burnished apple for you to pluck me, gliding by so cold While sun and shade your robe of lawn will dapple Your robe of lawn and your hair's spun gold. Yea, would to God I were among the roses That lean to kiss you as you float between While on the low-est branch a bud uncloses A bud un-closes, to touch you, my queen. Nay, since you will not love, would I were growing A happy daisy, in the garden path That so your silver foot might press me going Might press me going even un- to death.

WHEN YOU WERE SWEET SIXTEEN

1898 James Thornton

$\text{♩} = 120$

When first I saw the love light in your eyes, And heard the voice like sweetest melody

Speak words of love to my enraptured soul, The world had nought but joy in store for me.

E'en tho we're drifting down life's stream a-part, Your face I still can see in dream's domain;

I know that it would ease my breaking heart To hold you in my arms just once again.

I love you as I never loved before Since first I met you on the village green

Come to me or my dream of love is O'er I love you as I loved you, When you were sweet

When you were sweet _____ six-teen. _____ I love you as I never loved before

Since first I met you on the village green Come to me or my dream of love is O'er

I love you as I loved you, When you were sweet _____ six-teen. _____
