

Love's Creed

There is no place where love is not.
Within duality, this we have forgot.
Love. It is All right here.
Lost in the noise. Lost in the fear.
Shake it off. Move it out of the way.
Sit with Silence. Find where Love stays.
It is woven into our Being.
And speaks to us through feeling.
We are threaded together with it's Light.
It is within and without. It is all that is Right.
All that you seek... All that you 'think' you need.
Is in the Life that you are. It is Love's Creed.
The Journey is to only find the Now.
With our Guiding Heart, we need not know how.
"Just Breathe," my Heart says to me.
"And as in the beginning and the end, it will be.
Always what you seek and wish to have,
Is found in the place you look last."
