A Note from Rick: It's cold. It's really cold. It's hard to do anything more outside than you have to. Our Tuesday sale had a really light run because of it and that makes it really hard to draw any real conclusions about the market this week. I really feel sorry for all of you dealing with frozen water tanks and trying to feed the livestock in this. It is no fun. Hopefully, we can get on the other side of zero soon and be back to normal next week. The Miller Yoder and Dutch Cross Classic 3 Day Trotting Event was a success last week despite the frigid temperatures. We had a great run of quality horses and they sold well. It was a fun week and it was a great chance to get to visit with those that were off work and able to come to TLA. It took a lot of work to get all of the box stalls put together and in place for the sale. The barns really looked impressive. The guys worked hard to get everything ready for a horse sale and worked just as hard to get it put back together for our Tuesday Sale. It's really cool to see such an amazing group effort and to have so many people want to be involved. Those three days were a blast and we'd like to thank all of the consignors, buyers and bidders, spectators and vendors for making the sale a success. Try to stay warm out there and we'll see you at TLA!
