A Note from Rick: Probably the biggest change in the market this week was that the price of bull calves fell off considerably. It's not a big surprise given the state of the beef market. Demand for baby heifer calves seems to be stronger. October is definitely going to be a busy sale month at TLA. The Draft Horse Catalog is at the printers and there is a lot of work to be done to be ready for the sale. I've been getting an education here lately with the alternative animal sale coming up and it looks to be very "interesting".....
