The Brother Killer

Many factors make blacks, especially black men, particularly vulnerable to the coronavirus.

By Charles M. Blow

April 12, 2020

Four Factors

- Where we work (Food industry, Direct Customer Service Jobs)
- Who we trust (Mistrust of doctors and media. Struggle to believe because of previous history.)
- Where we live (Poor air quality and high pollution neighborhoods, homelessness, high rate of incarceration)
- How we eat and live (high blood pressure, diabetes, lung disease, obesity)

Post COVID-19, you have to remain competitive.

Report Cards for Term 2 Marking Period 2
will be visible in PupilPath on May 7th.

The report card will also be emailed to you.

Make sure we have your correct email on file.

If you have not already received email correspondence from us, email your scholar's grade supervisor with your FULL NAME and your scholar's FULL NAME.

Graduation and Stepping Up...
