

Thank you for purchasing these products with Private Label Rights and Resale Rights.

This page contains some basic instructions about what to do with this package, and how to sell the products as your own.

INSTRUCTIONS:

PART 1: Using the products for your own business

The products in this firesale package are excellent, and can help you in your own business. There is a wide variety of educational products (for example teaching web traffic methods such as SEO), as well as software tools designed to automate tasks in your business.

Each product is located in a zip file. Be sure to unzip the file before attempting to use the product. While the process varies slightly between operating systems, the general process for unzipping a zip file is to right-click on the file and select "extract all".

- To read the ebooks, simply double click the PDF or DOC files, to open them in your default reader. You can download a free PDF reader from Adobe if you need one.
- To use the software products, please refer the the user manual with each respective software product. Some of them may run on Windows computers only. PHP or other web-based scripts need to be uploaded to your website to run (see instructions with each product).
- To view the videos, double click the MP4 video file to open it in your default video viewer. If you need a video player, you can download one for free called VLC Player (<http://www.videolan.org/vlc/index.html>).

Thank you for your purchase.
