

LIFE'S A VERY FUNNY PROPOSITION

Did you ev - er sit and pon - der, sit and won - der, sit and think, Why we're here and what this life is all a - When all things are com - ing ea - sy, and when luck is with a man, Why then life to him is sun - shine ev - ry - bout? ___ It's a prob - lem that has driv - en man - y brain - y men to drink, It's the where; ___ Then the fates blow rath - er breez - y and they quite up - set a plan; Then he'll weird - est thing they've tried to fig - ure out; ___ A - bout a thou - sand diff - 'rent theo - ries all the cry that life's a bur - den hard to bear ___ Tho to - day may be a day of smiles, to - sci - en - tists can show ___ But nev - er yet have proved a re - son why. ___ With mor - row's still in doubt, And what brings me joy may bring you care and woe; ___ We're all we've thought and all we're taught, Why all we seem to know is we're born and live a while and then we born to die, but don't know why, Or what it's all a - bout, and the more we try to learn, the less we

die. ___ know. Life's a ver - y fun - ny prop - o - si - tion af - ter all, Im - ag - i - na - tion jeal - ous - y hy -
 And no - one's ev - er solved the prob - lem poc - ri - sy and all; Three meals a day a whole lot to say; When you have - n't got the coin you're prop - er - ly as yet; Young for a day ___ Then old and gray; Like the rose that bud's and blooms and al - ways in the way. Ev - ry - bod - y's fight - ing as we wend our way a - long, Ev - ry fel - low claims the oth - er fades and falls a - way, Los - ing health to gain our wealth as thru this dream we tour. Ev - ry - thing's a guess and noth - ing's fel - low's in the wrong; Hur - ried and wor - ried un - til ___ we're bur - ied and there's no cur - tain call. ab - so - lute - ly sure; Bat - tles ex - cit - ing and fates we're fight - ing un - til the cur - tain's fall

Life's a ver - y fun - ny prop - o - si - tion af - ter all. si - tion af - ter all.
