

Sky Stays this Blue
By: Dallas Smith

Right now in this moment
It looks like you'll never stop smiling
You don't even know it but I'm living off of The wild in your eyes and it's like
Your posing for pictures I'll frame in my mind
You're dancing to music in three quarter time

Chorus: I hope your sky stays this blue
Hope your heart stays this red
Hope your road stays this golden, your sun never sets
Hope your high never crashes
And time won't change you
Hope you never stop laughing
And your sky stays this blue forever, forever

They say that what doesn't kill you
Just makes you stronger
But I hope when you cry that you don't cry
One second longer than you have to Cause when you love somebody it's more than just surface
You fly when they flying and you hurt when they hurt

Chorus: I hope your sky stays this blue
Hope your heart stays this red

Hope your road stays this golden, your sun never sets
Hope your high never crashes
And time won't change you
Hope you never stop laughing
And your sky stays this blue forever, forever

Bridge: I hope the sun always shines and you never see the gray
I hope that love is always kind, and it never fades away

Chorus: I hope your sky stays this blue
Hope your heart stays this red
Hope your road stays this golden
Your sun never sets
Hope your high never crashes
And time won't change you
Hope you never stop laughing
And your sky stays this blue forever, forever

Your sky stays this blue forever
