DESCRIPTION: Very RARE high-end Ben Pearson hunting bow. Featuring a phenolic riser, the Raider was made only in 1971 and 1972. Great looking and performing heavy duty man's bow. No delamination; no cracks; limbs are straight. NO drilled holes. No stress lines or crazing. A few scratches and scuffs. This is a really nice bow in exceptional condition for its age.

A month of tortuous abuse on the game rich plains of Mozambique provided the final proof. Jim Dougherty and our engineers at Ben Pearson had developed a superb hunting bow after two years of design and testing. The all new Raider.

Starting with the new handle riser material, rugged as it is beautiful, we added a limb design that gives power and long bow stability with short bow convenience. The 58" Raider performs like it looks. With class.

- New, extra fast limb design.
- Perfect form fit handle.
- New Pearson Phenolic handle riser.
