UNREACHED TRIBE• REACHED• NOV 2013

Huni Kuin Tribe

... the father and mother who were killed by the tribe within a stretch of more or less two years ago, where they took the deceased couple's children as hostages ...

Since last year, being in South America up till now, an amazing development concerning the unreachable tribal situation has evolved. Thank you so much for your participation in Amazon Missions as you are part in the unfolding of the following inspiring story.

An unreachable tribe, whom I do not mention now for protocol reasons, have been reached by associate missionaries, locally in the Amazon Jungle. We are all over-joyed and excited as this is a major mile pole reached for the 21st

Century. In 2003 was the first time I learnt about the unreachable situation of this specific tribe with which we then had no contact.

With Missionary

For years we prayed and focused on them and praise God today I have a couple of raw unedited videos (photos here have been taken from the videos) that was taken in November, last year by associate missionaries showing them busy conversing and trading with individuals of this tribe (still in natural Adamic dress – nude).

This tribe, consisting of different groups from the major tribal head, are hostile as they have killed individuals, especially on distance, accurately by arrow, of miscellaneous groups (also non-missionary) who came into contact with them by accident or planned. There is the account of the father and mother who were killed by the tribe within a stretch of more or less two years ago, where they took the deceased couple's children as hostages. Later the children were released by the tribe as found by locals, but with psychological damage. A Christian friend of mine's one worker was shot dead by an arrow through his heart in 2006 as they were in the unreachable territory chopping timber for trade. Last year another indigenous missionary brother of mine, being high up one of the rivers, had to flee by night in canoe as they were circling him for an ambushed kill.

Tribe's Artifacts

There are many accounts like this, never having been recorded, nor written about, not reaching headline news nationally nor internationally since it happened to unnoticed missionaries, who are many times local natives of the Amazon Jungle region, and not citizens of mainline super powers (countries). Also, any missionary activity today is seen as disreputable and hostile and an enemy to existing secular humanistic "Save the World" campaigning groups where news Medias are not likely to make broadcast of missionary involvement as it could hamper business. These stories are all typical examples of the well-known, "End of the Spear" account about Jim Elliot and his associate missionaries who were killed on January 8, 1956 by the Auca Indians, just a mere distance from us in Ecuador.

AMAZON JUNGLE - TWO RIVER REGIONS

Walter Canayo Sharing Word

Since last year in South America up till now, we have worked hard long hours going up far rivers exposed to sun, rain, wind, wild animals, eating monkey meat again etc. Praise God we had great success in the advancing of His Kingdom. This time in the Amazon Jungle I focused on the far eastern side of Peru working close to the border of Brazil in two river regions. Together with Walter Canayo, an associate Yine Indian missionary (through the years), we worked up the Curanja River mouthing into the Upper Purus River near the town of Puerta Esperanza. We covered 8 communities of which the most were of the Huni Kuin Tribe.

Singing

Later on, further down to the South-East of Peru, out of the town of Puerto Maldonado on the Rio Madre de Dios, near the border of Bolivia and Brazil, I worked with Uzias, a Shipibo Indian missionary, up the Rio de las Piedras (River of Stones) and amongst the communities we ministered to the Amawaka and Yine Tribes. It was 11 years ago that I came down from La Paz, capital of Bolivia 4000 m/alt, to the town of Puerto Maldonado in Peru, then, just having learnt Spanish practicing it as I went along. This time again I met up with the Gideon's Bible Fellowship, whom I got to know in 2003, refueling and strengthening myself with them in fellowship and in the Lord. Heb

10:25, 1 Sam 30:6b.

Indian Dedication To God

We took many Bibles in this time where some of these communities had none at all. We also took in some medicines which get dished out very quickly as the need is great. We shared God's Word and ministered Gospel music with guitar. Many Indians come to know JESUS as their Saviour for the first time and others were strengthened after a long time as the Word of God rarely gets to these isolated areas. It is with these trips that I get 1. HEALED from illnesses and that God 2. SPEAKS to me clearer than anywhere else. Why? The answer follows in this following Bible paragraph.

Curanja River

Isa 58:6-9 "... Is it not to share your bread with the hungry,... 1.YOUR HEALING SHALL SPRING FORTH SPEEDILY,.... 2.THEN YOU SHALL CALL, AND THE LORD WILL ANSWER."
