

RR Harriers Bridges and Trigs Points Challenge – Mon 31st May to Sun 6th June 2021

Should this have been called a “Bridge too Far” or even a “Trig too Far” considering some of the distances recorded? Or maybe even “Bridge over the River Derwent” or “Bridge over the A52” maybe.

So I didn’t think this points challenge would be too contentious, however.....

My idea of a trig point is something on top of a hill. However, it looks like there are plenty of trig points in Derby even though they maybe classed as Trig Pillars (whatever they are).

So I bow to the research done by some of the members and have decided to allow anything that starts with trig.....

Even though, it appears that I completely underscored trig points and pillars, as the plethora of bridges outweighed the resourcefulness of the trig thingy searchers.

As such, JK smashed this challenge with 63 bridges. And I don’t want to see photographic evidence.

Well done to Nigel for his research. Well done to Gillian for bagging the highest trig point. Well done to the codgers group – nice to see social outings happening. And hello to Chris Booth for joining in the fun.
