SERVICES

November 20- NANCY 3. HOFFMAN-"Music for Social Justice." Musicians have used their voices and instruments to call for social justice for millenia. This talk and listening experience will focus on a few well-known, and many newer examples of how music can open minds and hearts. Particular attention will be paid to the immigrant experience.

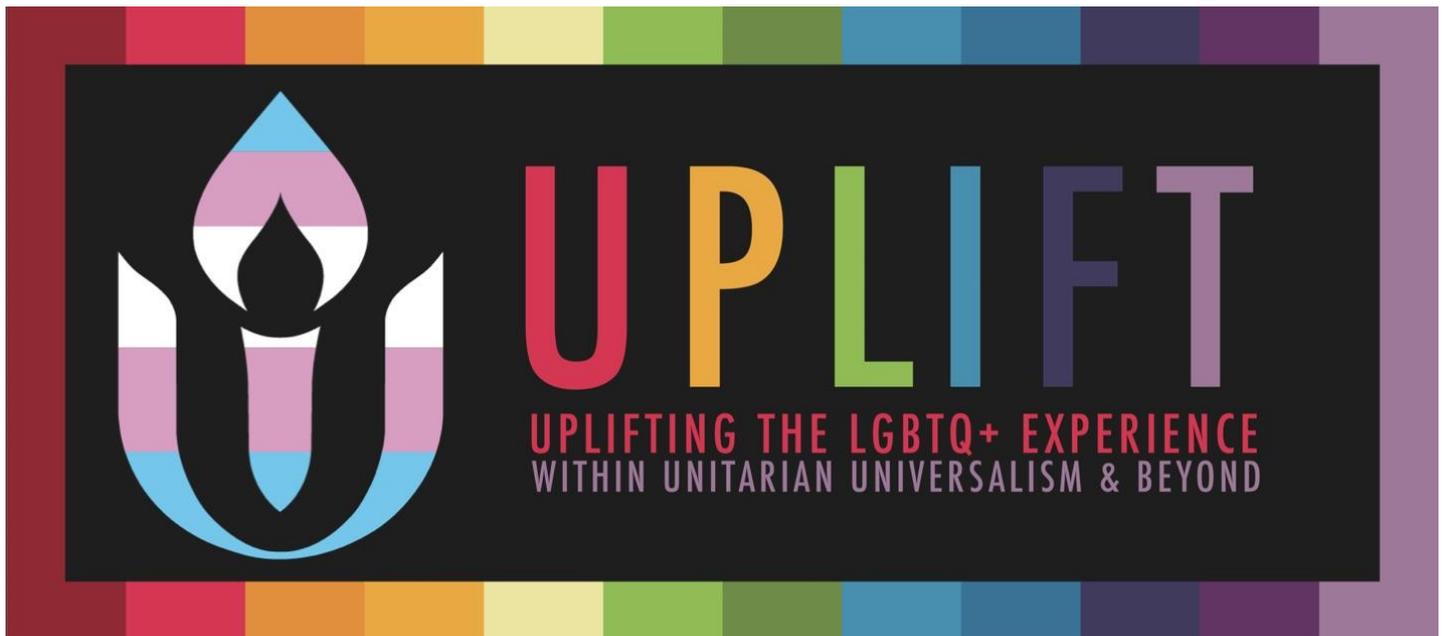

November 27- REV. DOUG SLAGLE-

"A New Masculinity for a Better World." Doug will address what it means to be a man in the 21st century from a mostly spiritual perspective. The #MeToo movement, LGBTQ activism, feminism, and many newly enlightened men and women are thankfully redefining masculinity by looking to past examples from men such as Jesus, Mahatma Gandhi, and Martin Luther King, Jr. This better understanding has the potential to promote a more peaceful, compassionate, and diverse global community

CHOIR TO SING THIS SUNDAY! JOIN US!

The One Island Family choir will raise our voices in song again this Sunday. Anyone who wants to sing with us, please arrive by 9:45 a.m. for rehearsal. All are welcome, regardless of experience. Thanks to those who jumped in to join us last week! The choir sounded great, and we had a good time, and plan to continue that. We look forward to being able to share music and camaraderie again after a long hiatus. Contact Music Director, Nancy 3. Hoffman, if you have any questions. 207-939-0301 or 3nancy3@gmail.com.

2023 Pledges We're coming up on Pledge season for 2023. I'll be sending you all an email/letter with your 2022 Pledge and payment information. You can enter your pledge for 2023 and send it as a reply to my email. Or you can print the email, write in the pledge and mail in the form. Or another option is, I'll have pledge forms at Sunday services and you can fill it in and return it. Your pledge provides an important piece of information for us to build a budget for 2023. Your pledge is also an important step in the process of establishing a voting quorum for the annual membership meeting in February. Any Question for me? Dave Arnold, email Dave.Arnold@Netzero.Net, phone 757-285-1609
