

Eidt, Violet

Violet (Dufty) Eidt, 97, of Mill Valley, California, died Friday, September 19, 2003. She was a former elementary teacher, starting her career at the age of 18 in a one room schoolhouse (the Rock City school) in Huron County where she even taught her own brother. She taught in Belding during World War II, moving to St. Clair Shores in the 1950s where she taught for the Lakeshore School District, Highland Park Schools and retiring in 1965 from the Grosse Point Schools. After a short retirement, she and her husband of 62 years, Earl, joined the American Schools Overseas, and accepted positions in Mexico, Taiwan and Hong Kong. Retiring to Sun City, Arizona and eventually in California, she led an active retirement with golf, tutoring English language students, and had a passion for bridge. Her generosity helped support numerous charitable causes.
