NOVEMBER 2018 NEWSLETTER

NATIONAL NEEDS HELP

Kevin opened the meeting telling the group about the devastating flooding at Fort Retch camp in Mullins, SC. The camp is Wildlife Action's national headquarters.

National estimates the material cost to make repairs at $88,000. This flooding event took place for the second time in approximately two years. The National board is asking the local chapters for donations to help cover the cost of repairs. The Pee Dee Chapter determined the best course of action was to ask our members for donations at the meeting. The proceeds raised from the November meeting and Christmas Party will be donated to National. Please contact Larry Davis for any direct donations.

CRSO REPORT

CRSO Report

Steve reminded the members that to keep their RSO/gate key privileges for 2019 they must open the range four times, 12hrs/per year. There are 18 members currently at risk of losing their privileges for 2019.

HUNTING REPORT

Dennis is still recovering for his injuries and wasn't been in the field, however Bill has reported seeing a small buck in the area. Roger said he has seen a hog. He also said that DNR reports an outstanding turkey hatch this year.

Both Lucas and his son harvested deer from the hunting area. The father bagged a buck and a doe and his son a doe

FISHING REPORT

Roger reported that DNR ask that the fish caught along the Pee Dee and its tributaries not be eaten because of contamination from the recent heavy rains and flooding.

On a more upbeat note the saltwater fishing is good with flounder, spots and sea trout being caught in the Georgetown area.

TREASURER REPORT

Larry said we're still solvent. He reported that national indicates we have two new members.
