The Evolution of the Cowboy Jeanna Titterington-Andros

Jeanna Titterington-Andros is a Texan through and through and very proud to call Houston her home. Jeanna is the oldest and only girl of four children and grew up a tomboy, riding horses, playing sports and keeping her younger brothers in line. Her fondest memories of childhood are helping her parents garden, getting the eggs from the chicken coop, riding motorcycles through the pasture while dodging cows and playing kick ball in the front yard with her brothers and the neighborhood kids.

Jeanna graduated from Sam Houston State University with a degree in Communications. At Sam Houston State University she was a member of the Chi Omega Sorority, anchor for the local cable channel and television manager.

After a brief stint as a television producer Jeanna ended up in construction where she made a career out of building everything from homes, to doctor office build-outs to hotels.

Jeanna also serves on the Grand Entry Hospitality Committee and has sponsored numerous Cook off teams through the years. Jeanna has also served as the President of the American Heart Association, East Houston Division, board member of the American Heart Association, Hospice Committee Charity Ball, Chairman of Celebrity Waiter Gala. She has also been a member of IIDA, International Interior Designers Association.

Jeanna resides in The Woodlands with her husband, Marc. Jeanna and Marc have four children; daughter in the United States Air Force Academy, son on ROTC scholarship at the University of Texas, son studying Health Science at Texas State University and a daughter who is a Registered Nurse in the Medical Center.
