Recording artists "Dwight & Nicole" (Dwight Ritcher and Nicole Nelson) aim to deliver a mood-elevating musical experience. The name of their Barre show, "On Top of the World," is also the title of a song written by Nicole for their 2014 CD, "Shine On." They do a genre-grazing mix of gospel, reggae, pop, blues, jazz and rock. The group's moving American roots sound has been turning heads in lofty places. Fans of NBC's "The Voice" saw Nicole climb to the ranks of season three finalist. (Watch her light up the judges here.) Adam Levine of "Maroon 5" proclaimed Nicole's sound as among "the most powerful voices I have ever heard." Steven Morse, music critic at the Boston Globe, described the band's music as "poignant, hard-hitting and heavenly." The late Maya Angelou called them simply, "Magnificent."

Dwight and Nicole have shared the stage with such iconic luminaries as Buddy Guy, Dave Brubeck, Trombone Shorty, Levon Helm, Norah Jones, Carly Simon, Dr. John and the Avett Brothers. The group's music has been featured in shows airing on ABC, CW, Lifetime and A&E. Nicole was named the Boston Music Awards 2012 Female Vocalist of the Year, and the duo has been showered with regional award nominations and accolades. They met in Brooklyn (NY), made their mark in Boston and beyond, and now choose to call Burlington, Vermont, home. (Browse other vids showcasing their range of styles.)
