The #1 complaint from families is puppy chewing & biting. Most weather through this tough period that requires understanding and training. A handful don't and give up on their puppy, which is very sad to me. This is a lifelong commitment and puppies should never be discarded like an old toy.

This naughty/mischievous age about 8 months to a year or so can be difficult for you and the pup. This stage is controllable with work, a combination of training for the pup as well as for the owners. Puppy teeth can hurt A LOT and Irish Setters grow quickly and don't always understand their size or strength. These are all training issues and require alot of patience from you. Hitting or kicking a pup is never considered appropriate procedure. Puppy training classes are an excellent idea and will add to the bond you have with your new family member. Growing up is something you must be willing to weather through with love and great patience. Can you? If not, please don't send me this application. I want the best possible homes for my puppies which is why I ask so many questions. Please share your thoughts or experiences with me and tell me why your home would be a good "Forever Home" for one of my puppies.

Have you read over the Contract?_____ Do you understand and agree that you will abide by the requirements as stated in the contract? _____ If you do not agree, please do not apply for a Blue Moon puppy.

Please fill out form and add any other bits you feel I should know about you.
