

Love Dixon Bio

Love Dixon has been on a motivational crusade since the release of her first nonfiction book, "Same Gender Loving and Loving It." She is currently working on her second book "Love, Life, Loss" UnMasking Fear which addresses the impact of fear in one's life.

Love's passion and her ability to relate allows her to evoke emotion from her readers and audiences that creates a space for growth and healing. As a writer, activist, community organizer, and social change agent, she has been instrumental in developing key programs for school systems and agencies that deal with trauma, self-esteem, bullying, and healthy relationships. Her message of "You Matter" is riveting and compelling to diverse audiences.

As a keynote speaker, Love challenges the mindset and perspective of individuals who are emerging as healthy, empowered people. Through her workshops, "Fear No More", "Love Matters" and "Bully No More", Love provides techniques for creating and maintaining healthy relationships. Love has more than 10 years of experience in speaking, writing, and creating programs. She has appeared on local and national television and radio news programs. Love's inspiring message can be empowering for groups all over the world.

PO Box 297926, Columbus, OH 43229
614-259-8370

www.shadepublishing.com Email: contactus@shadepublishing.com