Meeting Date: Tuesday, April 9, 2019

Topic: Advancements in EMAT

Guest Speaker: Dr. Francisco Hernandez, Research Engineer- Innerspec Technologies, Inc.

Dr. Francisco Hernandez is a Research Engineer at Innerspec Technologies, Inc., working in the field of non-destructive testing, with particular interest on ultrasonic testing techniques. His approach to research is application driven, and he has been involved in every stage of research, from conception to experimental execution and validation. He has sensor design experience, skills in developing software for signal processing and data analysis, and knowledge on the use of finite element method simulations to inform design and validate experimental data. He is a graduate from University of Warwick (United Kingdom) with a PhD degree in Physics. He has produced papers in conference proceedings and peer-reviewed journals and has a proven track record of securing funds for his research projects.
