MASS READING
RELFECTION

Aug 18, 2019

1st Reading Jer 38:4-6,8-10

[Imprisonment of Jeremiah]

Jeremiah the prophet (“spokesman of God”) corrected the power structure of his society Israel was God’s chosen people, living with him in a sacred partnership (covenant). He wanted those in power to realize this, but they did not like to be corrected by the man God.

This reading prepares us to understand today’s Gospel in which Jesus predicts his passion and death. Suffering and endurance are part of each serious Christian’s life, and faith in God should help us withstand them. “Though I am afflicted and poor, yet the Lord thinks of me” (Responsorial Psalm).

2nd Reading Heb 12:1-4

[Perseverance]

Wherever the ancient Romans built cities, one finds the ruins of an amphitheater. They love the games. This passage uses sporting language to encourage us not to follow the easy way as Christians but rather to make even painful decisions, if necessary (Gospel). Life is the arena of the local amphitheater. A cloud of witnesses/spectators watches us. Sins are hindering clothes. Take them off when you are running.

Keep your eyes fixed on Jesus. As a good coach, he inspires and perfects your faith and self-confidence. And he gives the reason for your efforts, namely, the joy of heaven. He himself endured the opposition of sinners (Gospel). The lesson for you and me is: Do not abandon the struggle!

20th Sunday in Ordinary Time

THEME: Can We Stand Correction?

“Leave me alone! Mind your own business!” is usual reaction when others interfere with our way of life. We want to be happy in our own little world, with our good and perhaps also bad habits!

Children do not like to be corrected by parents or teachers. Grown-ups unduly resent their employers’ attempts to enhance their working methods. Parishioners may concede that priests should preach on sin, but they do not want them to go into details in which the audience may be involved! And in the “closed society” of the South in the sixties, people who came in to encourage blacks to stand up for their rights were termed “outside agitators.” They were told: “Go home and leave us alone!”

Today’s Second Reading compares life with a race course. We should persevere in running the race of life. But no team is going to succeed without a coach who observes every player and corrects the technique of each. Can we stand honest correction? The First Reading & Gospel tell us about Jeremiah and Jesus of Nazareth, who did not leave people alone. In the name of God, they had to speak. Their sermons were corrective and aimed at restoring life as it should be!

THE AMAZING PARISH PRAYER

Heavenly Father, We thank you for gathering us together and calling us to serve as your disciples. You have charged us through Your Son, Jesus, with the great mission of evangelizing and witnessing your love to the world. Send your Holy Spirit to guide us as we discern Your will for the spiritual renewal of our parish. Give us strength, courage, and clear vision as we use our gifts to serve You. We entrust our parish family to the care of Mary, our mother, and ask for her intercession and guidance as we strive to bear witness to the Gospel and build an amazing parish. Amen
