

FILEY : Close up view of the bevelled cliff. The beds of resistant Corallian Limestone are clearly visible giving a vertical profile. Notice the bedding planes and small cave. The thick layer of weaker boulder clay above has a gentler angle due to extensive sub-aerial action and gullying.

