"As I was sitting in a women's sharing circle, I paused and took a moment to look at each woman in the circle. I found myself overwhelmed at the thought of how much I needed these women, my sisters - First Nations, Métis and Inuit women. As a human being, I am rediscovering my need for human relationship and connection. As a Cree woman I am rediscovering the strength of Indigenous women and her story. Her existence is a gift. Her life is a gift. She is a gift, as an Indigenous woman, from Creator." -Michelle Niewiadomy, Assistant Director, Edmonton Native Healing Society.
