Beauty Expert for Total Life Synchronicity™

Quinntin Phelps has always believed that every day, each of us is a walking statement expressed by how we move, how we speak, how we dress, and most importantly by what we wear on our faces. The face is the canvas for our expressions, and Quinntin truly understands the importance of expression, how a face fares through the day or evening, and how good you feel in your skin. Quinntin is and has been a renegade of personal and corporate branding for over eighteen years.

Quinntin's career began in 1993, during the initial years at Bobbi Brown where he worked his way up to become her first Executive Director of Global Artistry and Development. With his high esteem for and personal alignment with Bobbi Brown's views and goals, he served as Ms. Brown's right hand for all matters of beauty. Quinntin developed company strategies that ultimately affected thousands of women across the globe. He diligently spread the word about Bobbi Brown, her products and her ethos by consulting, creating, and directing countless individuals to live a more inspired and beautiful life. As Brown's go-to-guy, Quinntin led her team toward their goals and successes from the showroom, to company seminars, to one-on-one private training events, to the highly anticipated fashion weeks in New York and abroad. He also worked on company advertisements, media, new product development and launching, and took great pride in helping establish the company's educational and training program both nationally and internationally.

Following his work at Bobbi Brown, Quinntin stepped out on his own, and began his association with Bergdorf Goodman as their Global Beauty Expert. He designed and implemented Bergdorf's "ASK QUINNTIN" program, a program created and tailored to Quinntin's expertise as a Beauty Expert. Quinntin's insights about beauty were highlighted in each issue of the Bergdorf Goodman Fashion Magazine, featuring a full-page editorial along with a promotional caricature of Quinntin, which was posted throughout Bergdorf Goodman. Quinntin worked with various fashion and beauty houses to create promotional programs and synergies throughout the store's departments to enhance the clients' experience while shopping. He was the key representative during his time at Bergdorf for all things related to beauty.

As a Beauty Visionary, Quinntin is best known for his intuitive nature and candor, and for his discerning eye for beauty. Quinntin is now working with various beauty and lifestyle companies to help identify and promote brand awareness. He continues his work behind the scenes during fashion week, whilst writing for beauty and wellness blogs Style Watch and KINETIC Sculpt.
