There are few books that should carry a warning on the cover – turning the pages could be life altering.

Sydney author Aleksandra Zaric, who is set to make her mark upon the as yet unsuspecting public, is making no excuses for the content of her ‘offering’ and taking no prisoners.

Well aware of the effect financial constraints, employment and energy crisis have had on all our lives, former Business Analyst Aleksandra has compiled her professional acumen with spiritual know-how, to deliver one of the most effective and how-to-get what-you-want books, ever written.

For that reason alone, ENERGY INTELLIGENCE, Personal Power Through Spiritual Awareness, is perfect timing. Its fresh approach is unique - balancing the practical with the metaphysical. Its easy-to-read content addresses not just the way our minds work but how it impacts on our emotions, words and subsequent actions.

By applying techniques Aleksandra has used in the corporate world, and blending them with simple but comprehensive guidelines, all the key tools to achieve these hopes and aspirations are offered in new and innovative ways that will shock everyone with their new view on reality!

“Energy Intelligence brings the major disciplines of self-help, guides for success, spiritual growth, and new age, into one book. The most influential elements within these fields, and across all denominations, have been merged into a book that offers a refreshing path for busy people who demand the ability to reach goals without stopping what they are doing,” says Aleksandra who has successfully applied them to her own life.

But don't take Aleksandra's word for it – grab a copy of Energy Intelligence and empower yourself! Be warned – the guidelines are not magical or mystical practices but simple, practical processes that anyone can apply to their life to turn it around for their own goals.

Australian Award Winning novelist Tom Flood, son of reputed author Dorothy Hewitt, has been happy to pen his thoughts to Aleksandra's inspiring book - with a foreword. Tom now lives in NSW but grew up in Western Australia.
